Political Arrests Mark Rising Tensions In South Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A Vietnamese employee of the U.S. aid mission, a labor leader and a government military representative were reported seized Monday in a flurry of political arrests. Tension in Saigon mounted.

Police reported that an old woman committed suicide by fire during the weekend and that a man tried to burn himself to death. But police said the incidents had no political significance.

U.S. authorities said the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem gave no reason for the arrest of the U.S. aid mission employee, Vu Hoang Linh, who worked as an interpreter in the mission's rural affairs section. The section deals in counter-guerrilla programs in the Vietnamese countryside.

Also reported taken by police was Dam Sy Hien, a high official in the General Confederation of Labor. There had been no indication of trouble in the nation's labor unions, which are closely controlled by the government.

In what is believed may be the start of a military purge, police arrested Capt. Dinh Thach Bich, a deputy of the Saigon government's delegation to the eastern province.

No reasons were given for any of the arrests.

Government security officials were said to believe that new anti-Diem demonstrations and violence may break out to coincide with the arrival of a U.N. investigation team. A seven-nation team was named in New York on Friday and is expected to leave for Saigon next Monday for a 15-day stay.

The U.N. team will investigate charges that the Diem government is persecuting Buddhists. To point up their opposition to Diem, six Buddhist monks have burned themselves in sacrificial suicides. The Buddhists charge that Diem, a Roman Catholic, discriminates against their religion.

Police said the suicide of the old woman was not connected with the political situation. "Suicide by burning is common in South Viet Nam," an official said.

Police said the woman had been in poor health and attempted several times before to kill herself.

As for the man, police said he soaked his clothing in gasoline Sunday at the An Don market in the Chinese section of Saigon. But before he could strike a match, police seized him and took him to jail, officials said. The man was not identified.

Aberdeen Pays Tribute To Fischer Quints

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Aberdeen rolled out the red carpet Monday in a rousing celebration for the city's most famous residents, the Fischer quintuplets.

Some 25,000 persons stood in the rain for a giant afternoon parade which high-lighted the one-month anniversary of the birth of the quint's to Mrs. Andrew Fischer, 30, last Sept. 14. Citizens agreed it was one of the biggest celebrations this Northern Plains city of 24,000 has witnessed.

Heavy rain drenched the large turnout about 10 minutes before the windup of the 90-minute parade, which was led by Mr. and Mrs. Fischer and their other five children.

In addition to the downpour, intermittent rain fell during the day but it failed to dampen spirits.

Speculation Over Nixon Candidacy Starts Again

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The hottest piece of speculation at weekend Republican get-togethers was whether Richard M. Nixon is a candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

During the Hershey, Pa., birthday party for former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Nixon repeatedly told reporters it was out of the question.

But Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, suggested at a GOP meeting in Eugene, Ore., that the former vice president talks and acts very much like a man willing to accept the Republican nomination once again.

"I think he's a candidate," Rockefeller said. "He's been making consistent comments on international affairs and taking a greater part in national and party affairs. He sounds like a candidate."

Goldwater has said that Nixon has been a candidate all along. "Any man who lost the presidency by a fraction of a percentage point" should be considered a contender, Goldwater said.

For his part, Nixon, while mentioning Goldwater and Rockefeller as possibilities, said Govs. William Scranton of Pennsylvania and George Romney of Michigan are Republicans with "leadership qualities."

Eisenhower and GOP National Chairman William E. Miller are taking Nixon on his word.

6 Die At Idlewild In Helicopter Crash

Big Whirlybird Explodes, Burns

NEW YORK (AP) — A 10-ton helicopter — in shuttle service between metropolitan airports — exploded, crashed and burned Monday on takeoff from Idlewild airport. All six persons aboard were killed in an instant of flaming horror.

The 150 m.p.h. New York Airways craft was only lightly loaded with three passengers and three crew members, including a stewardess. It could carry as many as 28 persons.

The crash occurred at 12:33 p.m. as the helicopter took off on a flight schedule that was to carry it over the densely populated downtown Manhattan area. The weather was fair and clear.

Crew members who died in the crash were pilot Frank La Turco, 42, of Thornwood, N.Y., a pilot with New York Airways since 1955; co-pilot Joseph Giambattista, 38, of New York, a recent bridegroom, and stewardess Marie Fourquet, 21, of Northport, N.Y.

Names of the passengers were not immediately available. They were believed to be two men and a woman.

An American Airlines employee, who declined use of his name, said:

"I heard a loud explosion like a big truck backfire—and I turned around and all I saw was a ball of fire."

The helicopter was headed toward a row of airport hangars. But it came down near the center of the 4,900-acre airport, about half a mile from the busy American Airlines terminal.

Employees of the nearest hangars raced to the scene and four of them suffered burns or smoke inhalation in an attempt to aid the trapped victims. They managed to get the pilot out through his smashed windshield but he already was dead.

One of those injured, Richard Spivak, 25, was at work at Seaboard North Airways hangar. "I heard an explosion, looked up and saw the plane explode," he said. "It was about 100 feet in the air and coming in the direction of Seaboard when it crashed and burst into flames."

NEWS AROUND THE WORLD THIS MORNING

BERLIN — The U.S. Army rolled a series of convoys across East Germany without hindrance, in a new demonstration of access rights. Diplomats said they represented an East-West gentleman's agreement to demonstrate that the weekend crisis merely stemmed from a low-level misunderstanding.

VATICAN CITY—A proposal to authorize use of modern languages in the Mass failed to gain the required two-thirds majority vote necessary for final approval by the Ecumenical Council. But council spokesmen said the liturgical reform document was not dead. It will be returned to the drafting commission for rewriting. Only 36 council fathers cast negative votes, while 1,417 gave unqualified approval. Another 781 approved with reservations. A two-thirds majority requires 1,495 votes.

LONDON—Acting Prime Minister R. A. (Rab) Butler moved into 10 Downing Street and became the favorite to replace retiring Harold Macmillan as leader of the conservative party and the British government. Macmillan's successor may be named this week.

BELLUNO, Italy—Reports of possible new landslides and killer waves in the vicinity of Vajont Dam touched off panic and terror among the survivors of last week's disaster which claimed 2,500 lives. But the victims of the devastated town of Longarone vowed to rebuild it as a monument to those killed.

PARIS—Thousands of weeping Parisians burst through police lines to bid a final farewell to Edith Piaf, the beloved "sparrow of the streets." The crowd briefly disrupted funeral services as it forced its way through the police cordon to the graveside.

Adenauer Unhappy Over Wheat Sales

BOON, Germany (AP) — After 14 years in office, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer came to the eve of retirement Monday night unhappy with U.S. wheat sales to Russia without a Kremlin promise to knock down the Berlin wall.

"As it is now, I'm not going with a light heart," he told newsmen at a farewell reception. Adenauer charged that Premier Khrushchev caused the little Berlin blockade last week in which a U.S. Army convoy with 61 soldiers was bottled up in Communist territory for nearly 52 hours.

"He wanted to show his people that he still has power, even though he is buying wheat," he told newsmen at a farewell reception. Adenauer charged that Premier Khrushchev caused the little Berlin blockade last week in which a U.S. Army convoy with 61 soldiers was bottled up in Communist territory for nearly 52 hours.

But in his farewell talk with newsmen he said he was afraid the Russians are finding a way to isolate West Germany, by eliminating the conflict between the Soviet Union and West Germany will remain, he said.

Moroccans Accused Of Invading Algeria

Men, Armor Locked In Desert Battle

ALGIERS (AP) — The Algerian government Monday night accused Morocco of launching a massive ground and air invasion in the Algerian Sahara and advancing up to 60 miles into Algerian territory.

The fighting is about 200 miles southeast of Marrakech, where Mrs. John F. Kennedy, U.S. first lady, is the guest of Morocco's king Hassan II.

Foreign Minister Abdelaziz Bouteflika told a news conference that several thousand Moroccan troops, supported by aircraft and tanks, fought a desert battle with Algerian forces throughout the day.

Bouteflika said the Algerian defenders were still in control of the desert outposts of Hassi Beida and Tinjoud which the Moroccans claimed to have occupied earlier in the day.

No Casualty Report

He said there was no information yet on the number of casualties in the engagement. Ten soldiers were killed in a clash in the same area some 1,000 miles southwest of Algiers earlier this month. The two outposts, claimed by both nations, apparently had changed hands several times since fighting first broke out in the area on Oct. 4.

The Algerian cabinet discussed the situation at an eight-hour emergency session under President Ahmed Ben Bella.

South Korea Holds Election

SEOUL, Korea, Tuesday (UPI) — South Korea today held a presidential election that may determine whether the country will return to Democratic rule as hoped by the United States which has provided $5 billion in aid since the Korean war.

The two main candidates in the election were Park and former president Posun Yun, 66, a career politician. Park was leading in pre-election polls but public opinion polls are illegal in South Korea and the outcome seemed very much in doubt.

The United States, which lost 33,629 men helping defend South Korea against the Communist invasion of 1950, appeared concerned chiefly with election procedures and how stable and democratically based the new government will be.

Dwight D. Eisenhower Observes 73rd Birthday

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower turned a hearty 73 Monday, mingling with the festivities and in general keeping the tone of his birthday in low key.

Like so many of his fellow-citizens, he rose early and checked into his office on the Gettysburg College campus a bit after 8 a.m., just as he would do any other morning. Shortly before noon he and Mrs. Eisenhower drove to the home of their son, John, for the customary birthday celebration with their four grandchildren.

The day's program was topped by a dinner at the home of retired Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Nevins, who was Eisenhower's

Decision To Quit Follows Debate On Atomic Power

By CHARLES W. CORDRY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Navy Secretary Fred Korth resigned Monday after a number of disputes with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, topped by McNamara's rejection of Navy plans to build another atomic-powered aircraft carrier.

Korth, who also was questioned at length in the Senate TFX fighter plane inquiry, stepped down effective Nov. 1. President Kennedy named Paul Nitze, now assistant defense secretary for international security affairs, to succeed him.

In his letter of resignation to the President, Korth made no mention of his differences with McNamara nor his questioning by TFX investigators on possible conflict of interest. The Ft. Worth, Tex., businessman said only that he wanted to return to private business and "attend to my pressing private affairs."

JFK Accepts

In a "Dear Fred" letter accepting the resignation, President Kennedy praised Korth's "real contribution to the advancement of U.S. national security interests." He said Korth had worked devotedly to strengthen the Navy.

Korth's letter of resignation was dated last Friday, just two days after McNamara notified the Navy that he had rejected a proposal for construction of a second nuclear-powered carrier. McNamara decided instead on a new conventionally powered flatboat.

On Friday, however, McNamara agreed to take another look at the Navy's case for an atomic carrier. At that point, the Defense Department took the position that no final decision had been made on the ship.

Planned Some Time

Korth had been contemplating a resignation for some time and the carrier incident apparently set the timing. Korth also considered McNamara's proposals for a military pay hike inadequate, and favored a strong program for replacing obsolete ships.

Korth, it was said, also felt that the way was cleared for his return to Texas when the Justice Department cleared him of any implication of conflict of interest in the TFX case.

The TFX contract was granted to General Dynamics Corp., of Fort Worth, on the decision of McNamara, Korth and Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert. The three ruled against military chiefs who wanted to give the contract to the Boeing Co.

Korth was an executive of a Fort Worth bank which granted a loan to General Dynamics before he took the Navy post. It was on this point that Korth was questioned for days during the drawn-out Senate inquiry into award of the multi-million dollar contract.

Venezuela Camp Terrorist Hideout Is Ordered Closed

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A stepped up campaign of terror brought the closing Monday of Central University of Caracas, long a nest and hideout for Communist terrorists. Students struck back with an announcement of plans for a mass anti-government demonstration.

In Venezuela, as in other Latin American countries, universities enjoy autonomy and are off-limits to police and military forces.

The university council said the university will remain closed until after the Dec. 1 presidential election, in line with a request last week from President Romulo Betancourt. The Communist student federation opposed the action.

The decision came hours after a carload of terrorists under police pursuit sped into the university for shelter. Police and army forces surrounded the campus.

Council officials closed the university apparently in fear government forces would find a legal loophole and invade the campus, perhaps touching off a clash with students.

Supreme Court Faces Cases On Civil Liberties

Justice Harlan Stands Alone On Issue Of Counsel

By JERRY T. BAULCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice John M. Harlan, in effect, told his Supreme Court colleagues Monday they are ducking responsibility and paving the way for reopening criminal cases long since settled.

The question is whether the lower courts are to apply retroactively the high court's ruling of last March that state, as well as federal, courts must provide an attorney for persons charged with a crime if they are too poor to hire lawyers and if they request such help.

Harlan told his fellow justices: "In the current swift pace of constitutional change, the time has come for the court to deal definitively with this important and far-reaching subject."

But Harlan stood alone in protesting an order by the other eight justices setting aside judgments in ten Florida cases and directing the Florida Supreme Court to reconsider them in line with the March decision. It is now up to the Florida tribunal to say whether the rule applies retroactively.

Grant 21 Hearings

Harlan's admonition to his associates was the only controversial aspect of an opening day which saw the court refuse to accept 550 cases appealed to it while granting hearings on only 21 new cases. In addition, it denied rehearings on 70 cases already decided.

2 Die, 38 Hurt In Crash On N.J. Turnpike

KEARNY, N.J. (AP) — Four trucks and an interstate bus tore into each other on a foggy stretch of the New Jersey turnpike Monday, killing two persons and injuring 38.

Fog also was blamed for the collision of two commuter trains just north of Kearny in which 40 persons were injured, none seriously.

Two women, their identities still unknown, were crushed to death when the front of the Greyhound bus was ripped away upon impact with the rear of a tractor-trailer.

State police were uncertain of the sequence in the chain-reaction collision, but they believed three trucks smashed up before the bus plowed into the rear of one. Another truck then struck the rear of the bus.

Many passengers were pinned in the bus which was bound for New York City, five miles east of Kearny. It had started its run in Detroit and had stopped in Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

Forty-two persons were believed aboard, three less than capacity.

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A Vietnamese employee of the U.S. aid mission, a labor leader and a government military representative were reported seized Monday in a flurry of political arrests. Tension in Saigon mounted.

Police reported that an old woman committed suicide by fire during the weekend and that a man tried to burn himself to death. But police said the incidents had no political significance.

U.S. authorities said the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem gave no reason for the arrest of the U.S. aid mission employee, Vu Hoang Linh, who worked as an interpreter in the mission's rural affairs section. The section deals in counter-guerrilla programs in the Vietnamese countryside.

Also reported taken by police was Dam Sy Hien, a high official in the General Confederation of Labor. There had been no indication of trouble in the nation's labor unions, which are closely controlled by the government.

In what is believed may be the start of a military purge, police arrested Capt. Dinh Thach Bich, a deputy of the Saigon government's delegation to the eastern province.

No reasons were given for any of the arrests.

Government security officials were said to believe that new anti-Diem demonstrations and violence may break out to coincide with the arrival of a U.N. investigation team. A seven-nation team was named in New York on Friday and is expected to leave for Saigon next Monday for a 15-day stay.

The U.N. team will investigate charges that the Diem government is persecuting Buddhists. To point up their opposition to Diem, six Buddhist monks have burned themselves in sacrificial suicides. The Buddhists charge that Diem, a Roman Catholic, discriminates against their religion.

Police said the suicide of the old woman was not connected with the political situation.

"Suicide by burning is common in South Viet Nam," an official said.

Police said the woman had been in poor health and attempted several times before to kill herself.

As for the man, police said he soaked his clothing in gasoline Sunday at the An Don market in the Chinese section of Saigon.

But before he could strike a match, police seized him and took him to jail, officials said. The man was not identified.

Governor Slates Clemency Hearing For Three Young Negroes

Tawes Urged To Set Aside Death Penalty

Rape Conviction Of White Girl Stirs Protests

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. Tawes will hear evidence Tuesday on whether he should commute the death sentences of three young Negroes convicted of raping a 16-year-old white girl.

The hearing involves one of the most controversial capital punishment cases in recent Maryland history. The governor's office has been flooded with mail and petitions urging executive clemency.

John G. Giles, now 22, his brother, James, 24, and Joseph E. Johnson, 25, will be represented by their attorneys and by leaders of defense committees formed in their behalf.

There were indications Monday the governor would deny a request that the defendants themselves be allowed to attend. Closed To Public

Newsmen will be admitted to the hearing, scheduled for 10:30 a.m., but not the general public. The governor also has denied requests for radio or television broadcast. Aides said he wanted to avoid "a circus atmosphere" and preserve a courtroom decorum for the proceedings.

The Giles brothers were convicted by a jury in Montgomery County Circuit Court and Johnson by a jury in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court. All three of the defendants are from Spencerville in Montgomery County.

They were accused of raping the girl in a secluded area near Rocky Gorge on the Potomac River after accosting the girl and her 21-year-old escort, who were waiting in a parked car while two white male companions went for gasoline. The incident occurred near midnight, July 20, 1961.

Stories Conflict

The girl said she ran into the woods at the urging of her boyfriend after the Negro youths broke into the car and attacked him. She said the youths found her and raped her.

The defendants contended she submitted willingly and that Johnson did not even have sexual intercourse with her.

Dr. Harold Knapp of Bethesda, an operations analyst for the Defense Department in Washington, compiled a lengthy post-trial report purporting to show the girl was not raped. He has submitted this to Tawes and will appear at Tuesday's hearing.

Conclusions of the Knapp report were aired recently over a Washington radio station (WWDC) which urged Tawes to overturn the convictions.

Two members of the Montgomery County jury which heard the Giles' case have written the governor saying they would not have voted for conviction if they had known of evidence in the Knapp report.

Present Petition

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Federal Prison Director James V. Bennett and Mrs. Harold Ickes, widow of the late secretary of the interior, are among some 500 citizens who have written the governor urging executive clemency. A petition bore 6,700 signatures.

Attorneys for the Giles brothers and Johnson have asked the governor to reduce the sentence from death to 18 months, a minimum sentence for rape.

In Maryland, only the governor has authority to alter a death sentence imposed by a trial court. He has power of full pardon for a criminal offense. The state's highest court, the Maryland Court of Appeals, can

Susquehanna Drops To Record Low In Harrisburg Area

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Susquehanna River has dropped to record low levels at Harrisburg and Wilkes-Barre.

The river forecasting service at the U.S. Weather Bureau here reported the river dropped to a record low of 2.36 feet Monday, but was holding steady at that level. A level of 2.4 feet was forecast for Tuesday.

The record low level of minus 1.3 feet was registered at Wilkes-Barre Saturday and continued Monday. The "minus" recording comes from the fact the river level recording device is not located at the deepest part of the channel. Consequently, the river level can fall below the measuring stake.

The previous low level at Harrisburg before the current dry spell was 2.59 feet on Sept. 28, 1959. The previous record low at Wilkes-Barre was minus 0.85 of a foot recorded Sept. 7 and Sept. 25-27 last year.

Westinghouse Strike Averted

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Union and company officials averted a midnight walkout Monday of some 34,000 employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. included 2,700 employees at the firm's Baltimore plants.

The International Union of Electrical Workers decided Monday to continue negotiations with Westinghouse on a day-to-day basis in an attempt to reach a new contract.

The AFL-CIO union and the independent United Electrical Workers had been free to strike at midnight.

There was no immediate word from the independent union, which represents 6,000 men. The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, representing 12,000 Westinghouse employees, can strike at midnight Oct. 31.

The IUE conference board has called the firm's present contract offer unsatisfactory and inadequate. If a satisfactory settlement cannot be reached, the board said it "is empowered to call a strike at a time selected by it."

Sewage Plant Order Meeting Big Opposition

Havre de Grace Told To Build Disposal System

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP) — The mayor and three of the six city councilmen plan to appeal a court order directing Havre de Grace to build a sewage-treatment plant.

Mayor James C. Vancherie said Monday he and the three councilmen will file the appeal as citizens, appealing the order by Chief Judge Stewart O. Day of the Third Judicial Circuit.

"As I see it the court order is unenforceable," said Vancherie.

Prepared by the State Health Department and signed by Day last week, the order was issued after a 17-year battle between the department and the city. It sets up a timetable for beginning and completing the sewage-treatment plant.

Vancherie noted that Day had ruled that the mayor cannot break a tie vote on the council, which is evenly split on the hiring of an attorney to represent the city.

To comply with the order, the city must hire a lawyer for condemnation proceedings and the issuance of bonds financing the project, Vancherie said.

"If I can't break a tie vote of the council, which is the position of Judge Day, then the city is powerless to hire a lawyer," said the mayor.

The six-member council also is divided 3-3 on which of two proposed sites should be used for the plant.

He paid official tribute to mediation efforts by President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia and said Algeria has accepted Bourguiba's proposal for a meeting between the foreign ministers of the two nations.

There was no indication from Moroccan or American officials that the military situation might interfere with Mrs. Kennedy's planned four-day stay.

The king's cousin, Moulay Ali — also his brother-in-law — invited Mrs. Kennedy to dinner featuring native Moroccan foods and music.

tions. After handing down this hundreds of orders which determine the calendar for the coming term, the court began at once to hear arguments on one of the most important questions before it:

Can the operator of a private business refuse to serve a Negro, summon police and invoke trespass laws when the Negro refuses to leave?

Five cases touching on this point—two from Maryland, two from South Carolina and one from Florida—are being heard Monday and Tuesday. Decisions probably will not come for some months.

So. Carolina Ruling

In one racial ruling, the court directed South Carolina's courts to reconsider the conviction of 65 Negroes who demonstrated March 15, 1960 in front of the city hall at Rock Hill. The lower courts were told to review the case in the light of the high tribunal's decision of last Feb. 25 upholding Negroes' rights to demonstrate at the South Carolina capitol against discrimination.

One rejected appeal was that of Mrs. Victoria St. Pierre Lartigue of New Orleans who sued two big tobacco firms—and lost—claiming they were liable for the death of her husband, a cigarette smoker who died of lung cancer.

Religious Consideration

The high court told the Minnesota Supreme Court to reconsider the case of Mrs. Owen Jensen, who got a jail sentence for refusing to serve on a jury because of her religious belief. She takes literally the Biblical words: "Judge not, that you be not judged."

The Minnesota tribunal was told to reconsider the case in light of the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling last June that a Seventh Day Adventist could not be refused unemployment compensation because she was fired due to her refusal to work on Saturday, her church's sabbath.

Cudahy Reports Loss

OMAHA (UPI) — Cudahy Packing Co. will have a substantially larger net loss in the year ending Oct. 26 than the $848,715 lost a year ago. President Edward A. Cudahy said Monday.

But Cudahy said he had hopes of getting into black ink next year.

For the first half of the current fiscal year, Cudahy reported a loss of $873,859 on sales of $157.39 million. The company last showed a profit in 1960.

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (UPI) — General Electric Co. Monday raised prices on power transformers by 6 per cent. The advances apply to transformers of 10,001 kilovolts and larger. The company said outstanding quotations will be honored until Oct. 25.

Car Explodes, Driver Killed

CLARKSVILLE, Md. (AP) — An automobile veered off a road near here Monday, crashed into a wooded area and exploded in flames, killing its lone occupant.

State police said the victim was a man but immediate efforts to identify him were unsuccessful.

They said the car was traveling on Brighton Dam Road, off Route 32, at the time of the accident in Howard County.

Nine Feared Drowned

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — Nine crewmen were missing Monday and feared drowned in the sinking of the West German motorship Marianne Wehr in rough seas at the mouth of the Elbe River. The 499-ton vessel was carrying a cargo of stone from London.

Congress To Air Regulations On Ice Cream, Milk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Relax kids! Those ice cream cones and other frozen milk goodies being sold unlawfully in the nation's capital for more than 40 years soon may have the blessing of Congress.

The House gave its approval Monday, sending to the Senate by voice vote a bill to regulate the size of milk and ice cream containers.

The bill would modify a generally ignored 1921 law which makes it illegal to sell ice cream cones, small containers of ice cream and such things as "Es-kimo Pies" unless the volume is at least half a pint.

It also would let dairies sell cream for coffee in packages of less than one ounce, something they can't do now. The present law makes it necessary for restaurants to package their own coffee cream.

American Medics Aid Viet Nam Fight

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

AP CO CO, South Viet Nam (AP)—The heavy gong hanging on the porch of the village school sounded and the villagers began lining up outside. The school now was serving as a hospital.

There were the old and the young; mothers and fathers, tugging toddlers along or carrying squalling infants in their arms.

Inside the building three Americans and several South Vietnamese made ready. With pills, medicines and needles they were ready to treat the villagers' ailments—and in doing so fight communism in this Mekong delta area where Red guerrillas are most active.

The joint U.S.-Vietnamese medical team was here to carry out its role in the civic action program.

It was headed by Lt. Joseph Burn, 26, of the U.S. Army. He believes the team's role is highly important because it gets through to the people.

"When you give somebody who is sick some pills or medicine or a shot with a needle, it's something personal and tan-

Keating Calls For Organized War On Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kenneth B. Keating said Sunday law enforcement is too fragmented and disjointed to cope with organized crime.

Keating said the test of the value of the Senate hearings in which mobster Joseph Valachi has described the inner workings of a nationwide crime syndicate will lie in whether new laws result.

In a program taped for television and radio broadcast in New York, Keating advocated:

1. Creation of a national crime commission to coordinate a war on organized crime.

2. More scientific methods of law enforcement. He did not spell out what methods he had in mind.

3. Legislation making bribery to influence a sports event a federal offense.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a subcommittee member, said he thought the Valachi hearings were sensationalized but added: "After all, Valachi's disclosures were pretty sensational and on the whole, I think it comes off as a good performance."

Javits said the hearings serve the twofold purpose of "getting public support for the law enforcement officials who have to deal with the seamy characters in this tightly organized and apparently very strong underworld combine, and exploring the question of legislation."

Javits spoke on a radio-television program taped for New York stations.

has been here six months. The medical team had escorted through the guerrilla-infested waterway. Two U.S. planned to come into Ap Co by sampan but there weren't enough gunboats available for field equipment.

They set up shop in the school open doors and started filing and the people gathered at the through.

Burn, who was a premedical student before changing over and graduating as a biology major, has been in Viet Nam 10 months. A slightly built man with a close crew cut, he is medical advisor to the 21st Vietnamese Army Division. Three medical teams operate under him. Each is made up of two U.S. Army noncommissioned officers, two members of the Vietnamese army and an interpreter.

Working with Burn here were SP. 5 Willie D. Henry, 27, and Sgt. I.C. Wilford Hayden, 30. Henry has been in Viet Nam three months.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers Flatten A Middle Three Ways

Many women pin too much faith on a single exercise when a single figure fault is the problem.

This is particularly true in the case of abdominal muscle control — it's too often believed that bending over to touch the toes a number of times a day will do the strengthening trick. It may if the routine is a long habit, but if the muscles have relaxed to permit an unbecoming bulge, at least three exercises are needed to put a neglected shape back into trim again.

Prove this to yourself. Try the bending over and concentrate on how the action feels through the abdominal muscles. Then try the following exercises, which obviously exert more pull on a wider area, and it will be clear that the three-part plan does more good.

1. Lie flat on your back with your legs together, raised straight and high in the air. Lower both legs very slowly until the back begins to arch. Then, immediately, return the legs to the upright position. Ten repeats for this exercise is your goal, but three times is enough at first.

2. Lie on your back and stretch your arms out at shoulder level. Fling both legs up and as far apart as possible, then crisscross them slowly in both directions as your toes can reach. Work toward ten repeats.

3. Again on your back, plant the soles of your feet on the floor, press your spine against the floor and contract your abdominal muscles. Hold this position for a slow count of five. Without relaxing or holding your breath, slide your heels down on the floor very slowly until the calves touch. Increase repeats of this exercise from ten to twenty.

DO YOU MEASURE UP? These easy-to-use tables show you how to calculate your ideal measurements from head to toe. They will make figure readjustments simple and accurate. For a copy of "Do You Measure Up?" send 10¢ in coin and a stamped, return envelope to me, John Robert Powers, in care of this newspaper.

former state president and national Blue Star Memorial chairman; Mrs. Don Smith, state president; Mrs. Howard L. Tolson, new district director. Standing is Mrs. John Hornbaker, organizational chairman and program chairman for the meeting.

History House Open Wednesday

Due to illness, the planned display by the Mount Savage Home-makers Club has been postponed, but the usual open house will be held tomorrow at History House, 218 Washington Street. It will be from 1 until 4 o'clock.

Hostesses will be Mrs. C. J. Hansrote, Mrs. William Hinkle, Mrs. Frank Kelley, Mrs. Howard Buchanan and Mrs. John McMullen.

Surprise and interest in History House, its exhibits and the special displays of ceramics by the Queen City Mud Hens and inkwells by Robert E. Boal, Westernport, were expressed by the several hundred visitors from the Blue Mountain Express tour. Besides individuals and family groups making the trip from Baltimore, Washington, Union Bridge and Frederick, there was one group of 75 school children with their teacher.

Mrs. Betty Chaney, Mrs. Irene Critzman and Mrs. Roberta Powers explained how the ceramic club makes as well as decorates its ceramics, which included figurines, a tea set, a lamp with lace figurines, plates and wall tiles. Mr. Boal showed about 100 of his 300 ink wells, including satin glass, Tiffany, bisque, Royal Copenhagen and Royal Doulton.

Israel Tree Planting To Be Shown

Mrs. Milton Bernstein, program chairman, has arranged to have Dr. and Mrs. Jack Arch and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schwab give an illustrated lecture of their trip to Israel, at the meeting of Cumberland Chapter of Hadassah. The meeting will be held tomorrow in the vestry room of B'er Chayim Temple at 8 p. m.

These two young couples joined the third annual United Jewish Appeal Young Leadership Mission last July for a comprehensive tour of Israel.

They made a complete tour of the new Hadassah Medical Center and observed many of the activities of Hadassah in Israel. Mr. and Mrs. Schwab personally planted trees in a Jewish National Fund forest.

Tree planting in Israel has been a Hadassah project since its inception in 1912. The movies tell their story from their landing at Lod Airport near Tel Aviv, to the far northern city of Safed, to the southernmost tip of Eilat on the Red Sea. The program is to give each member a better idea of Hadassah purposes and what the Cumberland Chapter is working for.

Mrs. Harry Stein, Mrs. Charles Zaks, and Mrs. Morton Wilner will be hostesses for the evening.

Private Duty Nurses Section of District 1, Maryland Nurses Association will meet tomorrow at 8 at Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Howard Tolson Heads District Garden Clubs

The Fifth District of the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland held the annual meeting at the Fountainhead Country Club in Hagerstown. Mrs. G. Frank Harris, Mr. Airy, presided at the morning session at which time all chairmen of standing committees gave their yearly reports. There are now 24 clubs and one provisional club in the district which extends from Cumberland through Washington, Frederick, Carroll and Howard counties.

At the present time there are 19 landscape projects in the area and 21 active garden therapy projects. The meeting concluded with a report from the nominating committee and the election of officers.

Practical Nurses Plan For National Convention

A delegate was selected and plans to enter the national contest were discussed at the meeting of the Maryland Licensed Practical Nurses of District 1 held at the home of Miss Eleanor J. Muir.

Mrs. Bette Wagner was authorized to make a poster to enter in the contest at the national convention to be held in Indianapolis, Ind., October 28, November 8. Mrs. Dorothy Wachter was named to represent District 1 at the convention.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Wachter, who reported on the cardiac seminar at Memorial Hospital recently. Committees for the year were appointed. They are by-laws, Miss Julia Loar, flowers and cards; and publicity, John Burke. The next meeting will be held November 8 at the home of Mr. Burke, 568 Fayette Street, at which time names will be selected for the annual jingle party.

Others present were Mrs. Deloris Fletcher, Mrs. Marjorie Crites, Mrs. Helen Davis and Mrs. Idella Dayton.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers Flatten A Middle Three Ways

Many women pin too much faith on a single exercise when a single figure fault is the problem.

This is particularly true in the case of abdominal muscle control — it's too often believed that bending over to touch the toes a number of times a day will do the strengthening trick. It may if the routine is a long habit, but if the muscles have relaxed to permit an unbecoming bulge, at least three exercises are needed to put a neglected shape back into trim again.

Prove this to yourself. Try the bending over and concentrate on how the action feels through the abdominal muscles. Then try the following exercises, which obviously exert more pull on a wider area, and it will be clear that the three-part plan does more good.

1. Lie flat on your back with your legs together, raised straight and high in the air. Lower both legs very slowly until the back begins to arch. Then, immediately, return the legs to the upright position. Ten repeats for this exercise is your goal, but three times is enough at first.

2. Lie on your back and stretch your arms out at shoulder level. Fling both legs up and as far apart as possible, then crisscross them slow-motion style, swinging as widely in both directions as your toes can reach. Work toward ten repeats.

3. Again on your back, plant the soles of your feet on the floor, press your spine against the floor and contract your abdominal muscles. Hold this position for a slow count of five. Without relaxing or holding your breath, slide your heels down on the floor very slowly until the calves touch. Increase repeats of this exercise from ten to twenty.

DO YOU MEASURE UP? These easy-to-use tables show you how to calculate your ideal measurements from head to toe. They will make figure readjustments simple and accurate. For a copy of "Do You Measure Up?" send 10c in coin and a stamped, return envelope to Mr. John Robert Powers, in care of this newspaper.

former state president and national Blue Star Memorial chairman; Mrs. Don Smith, state president; Mrs. Howard L. Tolson, new district director. Standing is Mrs. John Hornbaker, organizational chairman and program chairman for the meeting.

History House Open Wednesday

Due to illness, the planned display by the Mount Savage Home-makers Club has been postponed, but the usual open house will be held tomorrow at History House, 218 Washington Street. It will be from 1 until 4 o'clock.

Hostesses will be Mrs. C. J. Hansrote, Mrs. William Hinkle, Mrs. Frank Kelley, Mrs. Howard Buchanan and Mrs. John McMullen.

Surprise and interest in History House, its exhibits and the special displays of ceramics by the Queen City Mud Hens and inkwells by Robert E. Boal, Westernport, were expressed by the several hundred visitors from the Blue Mountain Express tour. Besides individuals and family groups making the trip from Baltimore, Washington, Union Bridge and Frederick, there was one group of 75 school children with their teacher.

Mrs. Betty Chaney, Mrs. Irene Critzman and Mrs. Roberta Powers explained how the ceramic club makes as well as decorates its ceramics, which included figurines, a tea set, a lamp with lace figurines, plates and wall tiles. Mr. Boal showed about 100 of his 300 ink wells, including satin glass, Tiffany, bisque, Royal Copenhagen and Royal Doulton.

Israel Tree Planting To Be Shown

Mrs. Milton Bernstein, program chairman, has arranged to have Dr. and Mrs. Jack Arch and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schwab give an illustrated lecture of their trip to Israel, at the meeting of Cumberland Chapter of Hadassah. The meeting will be held tomorrow in the vestry room of B'er Chayim Temple at 8 p. m.

These two young couples joined the third annual United Jewish Appeal Young Leadership Mission last July for a comprehensive tour of Israel.

They made a complete tour of the new Hadassah Medical Center and observed many of the activities of Hadassah in Israel. Mr. and Mrs. Schwab personally planted trees in a Jewish National Fund forest. Tree planting in Israel has been a Hadassah project since its inception in 1912. The movies tell their story from their landing at Lod Airport near Tel Aviv, to the far northern city of Safed, to the southernmost tip of Eilat on the Red Sea. The program is to give each member a better idea of Hadassah purposes and what the Cumberland Chapter is working for.

Mrs. Harry Stein, Mrs. Charles Zaks, and Mrs. Morton Wilner will be hostesses for the evening.

Private Duty Nurses Section of District 1, Maryland Nurses Association will meet tomorrow at 8 at Memorial Hospital.

Red Summit Talks Due Next Month

By HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW (UPI) — Leaders of the world's major Communist parties will hold a summit conference in Moscow next month to review the conflict between the Soviet Union and Communist China, informed sources said Sunday.

The conference was expected to lay the groundwork for a definitive meeting that might end in the expulsion of Peking from the world Communist movement.

The sources said the summit talks would be held sometime between Nov. 7 and 15 when high-level Communist delegations will be in Moscow to attend celebrations of the 46th anniversary of the Russian Revolution.

The report was partially confirmed Sunday by Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, which published a speech by French Communist leader Maurice Thorez, who is expected to head the French delegation to the conference.

In the speech delivered to a plenary meeting of the French Central Committee on Oct. 6, Thorez said, "we shall decisively support the convocation of the forthcoming international conference which will again confirm the principles of the policy of the Communist movement."

All the chiefs of the ruling Communist parties of Poland, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary are expected to participate.

It is doubtful that Communist China and the parties which formally rallied to Peking will attend. Among them are the Communist parties of North Korea, North Viet Nam, Albania and Japan.

The Russians, and many of the major European parties, sent no delegation to the Chinese anniversary celebrations in Peking on Oct. 1.

In preparation for the November conference of the major Communist parties, the Soviet press has stepped up its campaign to outlaw Peking from world communism.

Madison, Wis., was named after James Madison, fourth president of the United States.

Red Sources Say Mao Plans To Step Down

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung, 69, is planning to step down soon from active leadership of his nation and assume the status of an elder statesman, according to reports circulating among Communist sources.

Informed sources said Mao's possible retirement would have little foreseeable effect on China's hostility toward the West or its current dispute with the Soviet Union.

Liu Shao-chi, who succeeded Mao as chairman of the Chinese People's Republic four years ago, was considered the best bet to become the new head of the Chinese Communist party.

He is a reputed "hard liner" who would continue the present tough course against Moscow and the West, the sources said. Premier Chou En-lai, 65, once Mao's heir apparent, is now given little chance to succeed him.

Mao, who will be 70 in December, was reported anxious to devote more time to writing and to the development of his Peking-style Marxist ideology. He is believed to consider himself the "Chinese Lenin."

There was no confirmation of the retirement reports but well informed sources found them credible.

Mao does not hold government office but his chairmanship of the Communist Party Central Committee has made him the nation's dominant leader.

Mao apparently is in good health and if he retired from the party leadership he would almost certainly remain a formidable figure in the background to whom his successor would look for guidance.

In 1959, he resigned the post of chairman of the Chinese republic, which is, in effect, the presidency. This is not merely a nominal post since with it goes the chairmanship of the National Defense Council and a degree of control over the army.

Mao gave the post to Liu one of his most intimate collaborators for more than twenty years, who has since displayed considerable activity both inside and outside China. Recently he has been traveling in Asia in an obvious attempt to rally support from Asian Communists for Peking's anti-Moscow party line.

Water Levels Down

The water level in the city's two impoundments are below the crests of the spillways, according to A. Ray Nixon, filtration plant foreman. The level at Lake Gordon is five feet, eight inches below the crest, and 12 feet below the crest at Lake Koon.

Bob Hope (speaking for Uncle Sam) gives our newspaperboys an "Oscar"

If it were up to me to decide the Oscars (am I kidding?), I'd give one to America's newspaperboys for their performance.

I mean their day-after-day performance, fair weather or foul, delivering papers and good cheer to their customers. Learning how to be good neighbors and good businessmen, too.

But what I'm really here for is to tell you what a job newspaperboys have done for the Treasury Department—helping to promote U.S. Savings Bonds and Stamps, and buying plenty themselves out of their earnings.

They've found Bonds a great way to save for a

So this is Bob (Uncle Sam) Hope saying thanks for all of us to all you newspaperboys—our Hope (if you'll pardon the expression) of the future.

Residents Protest Re-Zoning Rules For South Cumberland And North End

Two petitions, both protesting changes listed in the proposed zoning regulations prepared by the City Planning and Zoning Commission were read yesterday during a formal hearing following the regular meeting of the Mayor and Council.

One petition, bearing the names of 14 South Cumberland residents, objected to the proposed re-zoning of the Virginia, Lafayette and Washington Avenues area as an industrial zone.

The area in question is currently zoned as Residential B and Industrial. The proposed change would make it exclusively industrial.

Petitioners stated that this change "would affect the value of present properties and homes of these citizens and taxpayers." They stated it also would create "numerous hazards to the well-being and safety of children who use the (Post) playground."

Petitioners urged that no action be taken on the proposal until citizens affected are given an opportunity to express their views. The other petition, signed by 202 North End residents, opposed the zoning of the area bounded by Shawnee Avenue, Franklin Street, Piedmont Avenue and the city limits as "RG 2," the new classification for residential and small businesses, such as restaurants.

It is now classified as Residential B, and petitioners asked that the new classification be kept the same under the new "RG 1" classification.

The petition was presented by Hunter B. Helfrich, of 727 Sylvan Avenue, and John Haus Jr., of 809 Sylvan Avenue.

H. Lee Silcox, of 404 Decatur Street, local funeral director, complimented the city and city planners for their work "with an eye to the future," and he said,

Silcox suggested a study be made of zoning on Frederick Street. He described the types of business in industries currently operating in that vicinity, "making it evident it is a business street, and for that reason there is available property that might be used for commercial purposes."

Silcox, likewise, asked that action be postponed until study is made.

The comments and suggestions were referred to the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission, which was asked to study them and make recommendations.

The final determination will be made by the Mayor and Council after the commission's report is presented and reviewed.

Parkside Pupils Visit Fire Hall

A large group of second graders at Parkside School learned all about firefighting and equipment that is used when they visited the fire hall in LaVale last week in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week.

Mrs. Nell Rizer and Mrs. Katherine Wolford and about 67 youngsters traveled by bus to the fire hall. While they were there three volunteer firemen, Vincent Self, Edward Young and Jerry Proud gave a demonstration of the firefighting equipment and also distributed literature which explained to the children the danger of fire and how they can help to prevent them.

The three firemen demonstrated how they get ready for a fire and also explained their duties and responsibilities.

Dahlias, though named after Swedish botanist Andreas Dahl, were first used as food by ancient Mexicans.

October 31 Designated 'Trick Or Treat' Night

The Mayor and Council took official action on two holidays yesterday morning setting "trick or treat" on Halloween and approving a request from Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, for a parade on Veterans Day.

The city set from 5 to 9 p. m. on October 31 as the time for the traditional Halloween activity. Police Commissioner William V. Keegan said he wholeheartedly endorsed the action, but pointed out that he wanted to take his family to see the mummies parade in South Cumberland that night which would "require some doing" since the event starts at 8 p. m.

The parade request was made by Russell C. Paupe, adjutant for Post 13, who informed council the parade is planned for 7 p. m. on Veterans Day, November 11.

The tentative line of march is from the old Armory on South Centre Street, north to Market Street, to Mechanic and down to Baltimore and thence out South George Street where it will disband. Details for the parade are to be worked out with the Police Department.

Bids for a number of pieces of equipment were accepted by council.

The bid of the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company for sewer pipe which will be laid on Wineow Street was approved. The bid was for $4.65 per lineal foot of 15-inch concrete pipe, and $8.40 per foot for 24-inch concrete pipe. The pipe will be installed in connection with the bridge project in that area as part of the Cumberland Thruway work.

The contract for construction of a steel water storage tank on McNamee Hill was awarded to the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company on a bid of $35,450. The 100,000-gallon tank will help a water pressure problem in that region, as well as help in development of the region, city officials said.

A bid of $3,695.18 by Woodrow Gurley for a two-ton dump truck also was approved. The vehicle is for use by the Street Department.

A check in the amount of $12,123.90 was authorized for the Hout Construction Company, the total representing the amount due on two contracts. One was for the balance on a Haddon Avenue sewer project, $4,017.60, and the balance for a sewer and water installation in the Thompson Avenue-McKinley Avenue area.

The order pointed out that the money will be refunded with a grant from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Payment of $1,474 to the West-Mar Communications firm was authorized for the installation of a traffic control light system at Centre and Valley Street intersection.

The retirement of Sgt. John H. Newhouse from the Police Department, effective Wednesday, was accepted by council with Commissioner Keegan stating his action was "with regret since John was a good police officer."

Credit Union Day To Be Celebrated

The Western Maryland Chapter of the Federal Credit Union will hold its annual Credit Union Day celebration on Saturday at the National Guard Armory on Brown Avenue.

Today's hand produced quite a variety of results when it was played during the Life Master's Pairs at the Summer Nationals recently concluded in Los Angeles.

At a number of tables North and South reached a four spade contract on the sequence presented in the diagram.

Those declarers who received either a club or a heart opening did not experience any difficulty in developing 10 tricks. Where the jack of diamonds was led—a play which gave away nothing—South had a much rougher road to travel.

The ace of diamonds was played from dummy and a spade led toward the closed hand. East followed with the ten of spades and South covered with the queen which held the trick. Since there was no immediate reentry to the dummy, declarer thought it expedient to make the next trump play from his hand, so he got out with a small spade. Fortunately for him, East was obliged to win the trick with the ace. The diamond return was won by South who now drew the last trump.

He cashed another high diamond dropping the ten and establishing North's nine as an entry. South was reluctant to use this card as a means to attempt a club finesse for, if the king was offside, he would have no further access to the dummy and his contract would hinge on West's having the ace of hearts. Declarer therefore led the queen of clubs from his hand intending to concede a trick to the king. It was his intention to discard a heart eventually on the jack of clubs, using the diamond as a delayed entry to dummy.

West put up the king of clubs and shifted to a heart. South played low from dummy and, when East was obliged to play his ace, declarer no longer needed a discard and was able to claim his contract.

At some tables, South chose to bid two no trump over North's initial response and North became declarer at three no trump. A club was opened by East and South's queen lost to the king. Where West returned a club, North had time to dislodge the ace of spades and take 10 tricks for a very fine score.

One West achieved an upset by making a very alert switch when he was in with the king of clubs. Fearing that there was no future in the club suit, he shifted to a heart. East played the ace and another heart dislodging North's stopper and then, when East got in with the ace of spades, the defenders took two more heart tricks to set the contract.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I believe in planning ahead. We are now arguing about Christmas cards.

All the years we have been married we've had our cards printed with my name appearing first. Example: "Greetings from Dorothy and Dick." My husband says it's time I gave him top billing for a change and have the cards read: "Greetings from Dick and Dorothy."

I was under the impression that the woman's name is supposed to appear first as a matter of etiquette. Dick says I am wrong about this and it's just a matter of which way you want to do it. Will you please settle the argument in a hurry?

—TIED OF FIGHTING

DEAR TIED: I do hope these words reach you in time. There are only 84 days left until Christmas.

On printed cards the woman's name should appear first. Since your husband would like his name to appear first for a change (big deal) you could please him by hand-signing the cards. It is correct for the person who signs for himself and another person to place the other person's name first.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A certain woman who works in this office hates me because I have a terrific figure and I eat anything I want while she starves herself to death and looks like a Mack truck.

This woman is always trying to put me in hot water with the office manager. If I am five minutes late in the morning she reports me. If I overstay my coffee break three minutes she reports me. Last night I left ten minutes early because the weather was threatening and I had a chance to ride home with a friend. I received a needle about it the first thing this morning.

My work is topnotch and I'm twice as fast and three times as efficient as any girl in this office. I'm not pinning any medals on myself, Ann, but I just happen to be an excellent typist. How should I deal with the trouble-maker?

—VICTIM OF JEALOUSY

DEAR VICTIM: If you are twice as fast and three times as efficient as any girl in the office two minutes here and five minutes there will not put you in hot water.

Defang the informer by reporting to the office manager any of your irregularities before she gets the chance.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a 16-year-old girl who is being pestered to death by a creep who won't give up. To make matters worse my mother thinks this boy is great.

Last week when he called I was not at home. He asked my mother if I had a date for Friday night. She suggested he call me back the next day. I've told her a dozen times not to give him any encouragement. She should have told the pest that I did have a date for Friday. The next day when he called I had to accept because my mom had put me on the spot.

I don't enjoy this boy's company. He is so sweet and attentive he makes me sick. He embarrasses me by bringing gifts. I want to get rid of him for keeps but I don't know how. Help! Please!

—PIXIE FACE

DEAR FACE: Girls who write and ask how to get rid of a fellow don't really want to.

It's flattering to be sought after (even by a creep) so you give him that "go away closer" routine. A girl who wants to be left alone does not accept gifts from a boy nor does she go out with him and blame her mother. "NO" is one of the shortest, and most effective words in the English language. You ought to try it some time. Babe.

Mayor, Council Advance Foremen In City's Job Classification System

The Mayor and Council yesterday suspended its rules to dispense with the first readings of the city's proposed zoning ordinance and to allow amendment of the city's job classification ordinance.

City Attorney Hugh J. McMullen explained that the zoning ordinance was so lengthy that the suspension of the usual order was felt justified. Copies of the proposed ordinance have been available for some time, so that interested parties could attend the meeting to comment or ask questions concerning the ordinance.

The suspension of rules on the job classification question was made so as to advance three foremen from Class 11 to Class 13 pay status. In pre-council session, McMullen informed council he had notified the Civil Service Board of the intended action and asked for comment. None was forthcoming.

Advanced in rating were A. Ray Nixon, foreman of the filtration plant; Roy Maphis, foreman of flood project maintenance, and William F. Miller, foreman of the sewage treatment plant.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Lucile Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property, moved that the job classification ordinance be re-evaluated, and that the work be started as soon as possible so recommendations could be made at next year's budget sessions.

Her motion was passed unanimously.

Attending the meeting were 10 members of the eighth grade civics class from SS. Peter and Paul Parochial School. They were welcomed by Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, while Mrs. Roeder pointed out they were fortunate in attending today's session because of the unusual amending of the rules.

The class was invited to tour the City Hall by Mrs. Roeder, but a member explained that they would be unable to do so because of the time element.

An ordinance for the closing of Euclid Avenue between Van Buren Avenue and Greene Street was introduced yesterday, with the order naming Allen Macy, Bert Graham and James A. Perrin as commissioners to assess any damages that might result from the action.

Residents Protest Re-Zoning Rules For South Cumberland And North End

Two petitions, both protesting changes listed in the proposed zoning regulations prepared by the City Planning and Zoning Commission were read yesterday during a formal hearing following the regular meeting of the Mayor and Council.

One petition, bearing the names of 14 South Cumberland residents, objected to the proposed re-zoning of the Virginia, Lafayette and Washington Avenues area as an industrial zone.

The area in question is currently zoned as Residential B and Industrial. The proposed change would make it exclusively industrial.

They stated it also would create "numerous hazards to the life, health and safety of children who use the (Post) playground."

Petitioners urged that no action be taken on the proposal until citizens affected are given an opportunity to express their views. The other petition, signed by 202 North End residents, opposed the zoning of the area bounded by Shawnee Avenue, Franklin Street, Piedmont Avenue and the city limits as "RG 2," the new classification for residential and small businesses, such as restaurants.

It is now classified as Residential B, and petitioners asked that the new classification be kept the same under the new "RG 1" classification.

The petition was presented by Hunter B. Helfrich, of 727 Sylvan Avenue, and John Haus Jr., of 809 Sylvan Avenue.

H. Lee Silcox, of 404 Decatur Street, local funeral director, complimented the city and city planners for their work "with an eye to the future," and he said,

Silcox suggested a study be made of zoning on Frederick Street. He described the types of business in industries currently operating in that vicinity, "making it evident it is a business street, and for that reason there is available property that might be used for commercial purposes."

Silcox, likewise, asked that action be postponed until study is made.

The comments and suggestions were referred to the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission, which was asked to study them and make recommendations.

The final determination will be made by the Mayor and Council after the commission's report is presented and reviewed.

DEAR VICTIM: If you are twice as fast and three times as efficient as any girl in the office two minutes here and five minutes there will not put you in hot water.

Defang the informer by reporting to the office manager any of your irregularities before she gets the chance.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a 16-year-old girl who is being pestered to death by a creep who won't give up. To make matters worse my mother thinks this boy is great.

Last week when he called I was not at home. He asked my mother if I had a date for Friday night. She suggested he call me back the next day. I've told her a dozen times not to give him any encouragement. She should have told the pest that I did have a date for Friday. The next day when he called I had to accept because mom had put me on the spot.

I don't enjoy this boy's company. He is so sweet and attentive he makes me sick. He embarrasses me by bringing gifts. I want to get rid of him for keeps but I don't know how. Help! Please!

—PIXIE FACE

DEAR FACE: Girls who write and ask how to get rid of a fellow don't really want to. It's flattering to be sought after (even by a creep) so you give him that "go away closer" routine. A girl who wants to be left alone does not accept gifts from a boy nor does she go out with him and blame her mother. "NO" is one of the shortest, and most effective words in the English language. You ought to try it some time, Babe.

Mayor, Council Advance Foremen In City's Job Classification System

The Mayor and Council yesterday suspended its rules to dispense with the first readings of the city's proposed zoning ordinance and to allow amendment of the city's job classification ordinance.

City Attorney Hugh J. McMullen explained that the zoning ordinance was so lengthy that the suspension of the usual order was felt justified. Copies of the proposed ordinance have been available for some time, so that interested parties could attend the meeting to comment or ask questions concerning the ordinance.

The suspension of rules on the job classification question was made so as to advance three foremen from Class 11 to Class 13 pay status. In pre-council session, McMullen informed council he had notified the Civil Service Board of the intended action and asked for comment. None was forthcoming.

Advanced in rating were A. Ray Nixon, foreman of the filtration plant; Roy Maphis, foreman of flood project maintenance, and William F. Miller, foreman of the sewage treatment plant.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Lucile Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property, moved that the job classification ordinance be re-evaluated, and that the work be started as soon as possible so recommendations could be made at next year's budget sessions.

Her motion was passed unanimously.

Attending the meeting were 10 members of the eighth grade civics class from SS. Peter and Paul Parochial School. They were welcomed by Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, while Mrs. Roeder pointed out they were fortunate in attending today's session because of the unusual amending of the rules.

The class was invited to tour the City Hall by Mrs. Roeder, but a member explained that they would be unable to do so because of the time element.

An ordinance for the closing of Euclid Avenue between Van Buren Avenue and Greene Street was introduced yesterday, with the order naming Allen Macy, Bert Graham and James A. Perrin as commissioners to assess any damages that might result from the action.

Joseph Patrick O'Malley, 5600 Wexford Road, Baltimore, and Mary Johannah Bolt, RD 3, Frostburg.

Willis Roy Rice, RD 2, Flintstone, and Carolyn Faye Gable, RD 2, Baltimore Pike.

Leonard Alton Turner, RD 1, Bedford, Pa., and Anna Lee Leydig, Buffalo Mills, Pa.

Gordon Henry Green, 9 Asbury Avenue, LaVale, and Lillian Lemuel Ault, RD 1, Flintstone.

John Thomas Earl Palumbo, RD 5, and Gloria Ann Bevak, RD 5.

Claude Eugene Rowan, 5102 72nd Road, Hyattsville, and Kathleen Patricia Martin, 527 Fayette Street.

The earliest official poet laureate was John Dryden, appointed in April, 1668. The youngest was Laurence Eusden, who received the laurel at the age of 30 years, 3 months.

A resolution of respect to Mrs. Elizabeth C. Conlon upon the death of her husband, former Mayor Thomas F. Conlon, was unanimously adopted. Commissioner Keegan also voiced regret on the death of Peter J. Carpentieri, local attorney who died last week.

An introductory ordinance providing for the sewerage of a portion of Golden Lane was read. City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum explained that the work involves 1,050 feet of improvement from its intersection with Willowbrook Road, and that the project will be 50 per cent financed by a federal grant from the Accelerated Public Works fund.

Boys Admit Setting Fires

City Police quizzed three youths over the weekend concerning a series of fires Friday night in three storm sewers along the Industrial Boulevard in South End.

Authorities said the youths, all released in the custody of their parents, have admitted participating in the fires.

Firemen from South End Station answered the call and said flames were coming from the open grate storm sewer on both sides of the boulevard.

The fires, according to authorities, caused great concern in the area. It was believed that gas lines had broken. However, investigation revealed something had been poured into the sewer lines and set afire.

Appropriation Voted

The Mayor and Council yesterday morning voted a $2,000 appropriation to County United Fund.

Sen. Beall Hits Sale Of Wheat To Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's decision to let U.S. businessmen sell wheat to Russia will advance "the spread of communism," says Sen. Beall, R-Md.

"One way of prevailing over communism would be to capitalize on its weaknesses," Beall said in a letter to constituents. "Soviet agriculture failure is one of the major sources of discontent and internal weaknesses within the Soviet Union."

The Maryland senator expressed the theory that Russians would be tempted to reject communism if such weaknesses were exploited by steps like U.S. refusal to sell them wheat. "The argument that the sale of wheat will help the American farmer looks puny in the light of the over-all world picture," said Beall.

FOLLOW THE RED ARROW TO EQUAL MONTHLY GAS HEATING COSTS

Last year, 1 out of 3 gas customers, that's 83,000, joined your gas company's Budget Payment Plan. They paid equal amounts each month for gas heat.

The RED ARROW on your gas bill points to the amount you will pay each month when you join this plan. It was calculated from your total bills during the previous twelve months, adjusted to normal heating weather. You will pay the same amount each month for 11 months. Any difference between your total annual bill and the payments made would be adjusted in the 12th month.

The Budget Payment Plan starts with bills bearing a "last day to pay" date in October. If you want to take advantage of this convenient plan, just pay the budget amount the RED ARROW points to.

Watch for the RED ARROW and join your friends now using the Budget Payment Plan. It will help you avoid peak winter heating bills by spreading your gas costs evenly over the year.

Newspaper Week
Is Time To Reflect

This is National Newspaper Week.
On these occasions newspapers throughout the land pause in promoting other interests long enough to talk a little about how a free press serves the people.

The founding fathers recognized that representative government and an informed public were inseparable and interdependent. Thomas Jefferson said that if it were left to him "to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without a government I should not hesitate for a moment to prefer the latter."

He knew that an enlightened public eventually would establish an enlightened government whereas a benighted public might never be capable of anything better than tyranny.

Jefferson also said that the press was "the best instrument for enlightening the mind of man."

What are the responsibilities of a free press?
There are many. The news must be presented fairly and impartially. It must be complete. It must provide an accurate reflection of what goes on in the world, the nation and the community.

The newspaper is under an obligation to comment on the news. It must oppose what it conceives to be wrong and defend what it conceives to be right. It must exercise eternal vigilance in behalf of the people's right to know.
It must keep a jaundiced and skeptical eye on public servants, particularly with respect to the uses they may be making of the tax funds entrusted to them.

It must expose rascality and discover virtue.
It also must learn to expect small thanks. For ironically it's usually only after the free press has disappeared that its value is universally acclaimed by those bereft of it.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Education Of Ambassador

Minoo Masani, the former mayor of Bombay, India, is in this country, and he has some most interesting stories to tell about the effect of his homeland on Harvard's Professor John Kenneth Galbraith, the New Deal-Fair Deal economist who recently returned to the United States after spending two years as U.S. Ambasador in New Delhi.

According to Masani, Galbraith, after his contact with the distinctly non-affluent society of India, got to talking very much like an conservative, Right Wing—or classically liberal—economist. India's Nehru, of course, is anything but conservative or classically liberal. As head of the Indian government, Nehru has advocated Soviet-style planning, with priority being given to the "public sector" of the economy as fast as the Indian Congress Party is willing to push it. The result has been three successive Five-Year socialist plans which have resulted in a declining rate of growth, a drying-up of savings, and a stagnant condition in exports. The Indian economy is now growing at a rate of 2.2 per cent a year, a rate which shows up horribly when it is compared with the 20 per cent pace of growth in non-socialist Japan. The average Indian, according to Masani, is no better off today than when the British pulled out of his country in 1947, for the population increases eat up the small economic gains.

Galbraith, says Masani, got a quick whiff of the true drift of Indian affairs, and proceeded to talk forthrightly like an American economist of the Calvin Coolidge era. He began to lecture the Indians for putting no trust in the concept of profit. "What is this Post Office Socialism that you have?" he asked. "Don't you know that profit is a good thing?"

Since he was Ambassador to a nation which had asked the American government for the gift of a billion-and-a-half dollar steel mill, to be owned by the Indian State, Galbraith couldn't very well openly oppose the "public sector" idea as applied to local steel production. But when he came to sing his swan song as Ambassador last June 28 in a speech at the University of Bombay, Galbraith lit into the whole idea of putting industrial development in India ahead of agricultural development.

The central test of any policy, Galbraith told the Indians, is whether it promises to improve the position of the average person. And this average person in India is obviously the poor peasant who would like to know how to get a little more fertilizer and good seed on his land. Steel, for him, is a distant luxury that is meaningless.

With the "average person" in mind, Galbraith attacked the Indian planners who hold the "accepted tests of the economist—the rate of investment and of economic growth." "An undue emphasis on the rate of growth," so Galbraith continued, "can lead . . . to undue emphasis on current savings and on increase of these savings through taxation . . .
The average person may know of the hopes for the future. This can rarely be accepted with grace and contentment when living standards are close to the margin."

Masani, who is General Secretary of the Swatantra, or Freedom, Party of India and a member of the Indian Parliament, naturally welcomes Galbraith as an ally in the war against the "Stalin psychosis" as applied to forcing swift industrialization on an economy that hasn't solved the problem of raising enough food for itself.
He knows, of course, that Galbraith, now that he is back in "affluent" America, will probably revert to his old habit of knocking private enterprisers and advocating vast increases in the U.S. "public sector." Nevertheless, it might be asked whether President Kennedy can trust Galbraith to support the sort of U.S. foreign aid that steel-mill-happy dictators like Nehru and Indonesia's Sukarno invariably want.

In this connection, Masani, who has talked in Washington recently with everybody, from Senator Barry Goldwater to White House aide Arthur Schlesinger Jr., had an interesting chat with Walt Rostow, the Kennedy policy adviser who has theorized rather extensively about bringing primitive and backward economies to the "take-off place" by thrusting steel mills upon them. Rostow, it seems, has been guilty recently of heresy in respect to his own gospel. He has been telling the Mexicans that the development of a thriving rural economy is more important than steel.

So what goes on here? Are Galbraith and Rostow getting ready to apply for jobs under a Republica Administration? Or are they about to urge Kennedy to make sure of the 1964 election by stealing some of Barry Goldwater's clothes?

Doesn't Affect The Firing Pin

Like Taking A Journey In A Time Machine

By Joseph Alsop

TAIPEI, Formosa.

The winding road to the villa in the hills, the villa itself, modest but comfortable, the excellent tea swiftly brought by silent menservants, in a big room with a superb view — all these features of a visit to Chiang Kai-shek in 1963 were also the customary features of such visits in Chungking some 20 years ago.

As always, Madame Chiang sits erect by her husband's side, occasionaly helping out the interpreter with a quiet correction or suggestion. As always, Chiang Kai-shek himself is soft-spoken but articulate. And the years have passed over him lightly, too; he even looks five years younger than he did five years ago.

At first, therefore, it is rather like taking a trip in a time machine. Yet there is a difference all the same, for heavy in the air hangs the constant thought of all the water that has flowed over all the dams, and all the blood that has been shed, and all the follies that have been committed, and all the tragedies that have occurred both needlessly and unavoidably, in the two decades that have passed since those days in Chungking in wartime.

On the heels of this thought, moreover, still another crowds in.
The year 1943 was a great turning point for Chiang Kai-shek. A command crisis centering on that foolish and violent old man, Gen.
Joseph Stilwell, in turn precipitated a domestic political crisis.
All that was worst, most corrupt, and most incompetent in Nationalist China won the day that autumn.

Then the Japanese launched major new offensives. The Communists, who always used the Japanese to run interference for them, thus won control over huge new provinces in the wake of the Japanese advance. Inflation became virginitous. Morale collapsed. And although Chiang's regime barely managed to survive the storm, it had been fatally undermined; and so Chiang's road went downwards, ever downwards, ever downwards, until he reached this island.

Twenty years ago, even his good manners could not conceal the fact that Chiang was not a tranquil man. But he is tranquil today, simply because today the shoe is on the other foot. The man beleaguered, the man pursued and threatened by misfortune, is no longer Chiang Kai-shek, but his enemy, Mao Tse-tung.

As long as two years ago, Mao paid Chiang the considerable compliment of hastily re-deploying upwards of 300,000 troops, in order to strengthen the defenses of the mainland coast against a possible landing by Chiang — the maximum Nationalist landing strength being only a division and a half!

Since then, Mao has been driven to his humiliating and fruitless retreat from the policy of the great leap forwards. He has plunged onwards to the final break with Moscow. He has defied the world, to small avail;

Letters To The Editor

Sir:

I wish to congratulate your organization for publishing the article "Feeding Earth's People Vs. Flight to Moon" by David Lawrence in the (October 2) issue of The Cumberland News. It is gratifying to know there are publishers who are strong and brave enough to exercise their freedom of the press, for I am certain that there are those who would not dare

I heartily agree with the views as expressed by Mr. Lawrence in this article. If God had intended man to inhabit the moon, He would have made it more accessible and would have made it more livable than it is believed to be.

This country was founded on a freedom of worship—originally of God, but now one wonders what the American people DO worship, and according to the Bible, God's people were ordered to "feed my lambs"—not "explore the moon."
He also gave the command: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel"—not "go out of the world to delve into My business."
I believe that if and when God would be satisfied with the work done by man in the world, He would then open up new realms of discovery outside the world for our enjoyment if He thought it would be beneficial to us, but as long as there are hungry people in the world who have not heard the teachings of Jesus, I think God will hold us responsible for not doing His work and will punish our country as He did the wicked nations of long ago.

Isn't it a shame that "One Nation Under God" can get so far away from the leader they profess to be under? It certainly was a waste of time and money to change the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag" to include those all-important words "Under God," when they have so quickly lost their importance. I presume the next act of the Supreme Court will be to remove those words from the Pledge, or prohibit the use of the entire Pledge in the schools.

In our world today, caught up in the maelstrom of man-made confusion, it is very difficult for children and adults to know what is right and wrong, so the only safe measuring stick we have to go by is our answer to the question: Should I serve God or Man?
As far as I am concerned, the answer is not hard to find. Just lift your eyes unto the hills and see the glory of God painted into the forests, the trees and foliage ablaze with the handwork of our Master and ask yourself: What man could do this with all the resources of the world at his command? Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Khrushchev, Queen Elizabeth, Mr. Diem, any or all of you, I challenge you to try. Please, while there is yet time, let all the nations band together to make the earth a better place to live and leave the rest of the universe to God's care. He may one day get tired of our meddling in His department and destroy us and start all over again, as He has done in the past.
Then it will be too late to wish we had stayed in our own orbit.

Home Care New Therapy In Schizophrenia

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

A psychiatric treatment center was opened in downtown Louisville in 1961. All patients with schizophrenia coming to the center for treatment were divided into three groups. Thirty per cent were placed in a state mental institution and 40 per cent were sent home for combined center-and-home therapy. The remaining 30 per cent received the same treatment as the latter group except that a placebo was substituted for an active tranquilizer.

Home care consisted of daily medication (including placebo for the third group), a weekly or bi-monthly visit by a public health nurse, and frequent telephone calls or visits to the psychiatric center. What were the results?
Some of the home patients did not succeed and had to be hospitalized. This occurred more often among the group receiving the placebo than among those getting the real medicine.

After 18 months, the results were tabulated. The patients treated with drugs at home were able to remain there 83.2 per cent of the time; only 11.8 per cent of the period was spent in hospitals. Comparable figures for the placebo group were 81.7 and 18.3 per cent, respectively.
Individuals who were sent to the state hospital spent 40.2 per cent of their time in the institution and only 59.8 per cent at home.

In the opinion of Dr. Benjamin Pasamanick, one of the leaders of the project, this study supports the contention that home care under the supervision of a community mental health center can be as successful as a prolonged stay in a mental hospital.
Family care is less expensive, creates less disorganization, and keeps the mentally disturbed per-

Cassius Clay Wanted To Do Some Good For Emperor Haile Selassie

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—When Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia was visiting Philadelphia, his entourage occupied an entire floor. It included local police, secret service, and his own security officers.
In the afternoon, the latter came to see Al Lewitt, who was masterminding the Emperor's trip, and said they had two callers they didn't know how to handle.

Lewitt went to see them and found two giant Negroes.

"I'm Cassius Clay," said one of them. "We want to see the Emperor."

"Are you really Cassius Clay," countered the flabbergasted Lew-itt, not sure he was really talking to the "Louisville Lip."

Cassius convinced him that he was bona fide, and Lewitt asked what he wanted to see the Emperor about.

"If he has his picture taken with me I thought it might do him some good," said the big boxer from Louisville.

"You mean it might do you some good," suggested Lewitt.

"No, I thought it might do him some good," insisted Cassius.

The Emperor was not unwilling to pose with the heavyweight contender, but he was then absent visiting a housing project. When he returned, his schedule was jam-packed and he had to leave the next morning so early that he never had a chance to let Cas-sius Clay do him some good.

People With A Heart

It's long been known that people of the theatrical world have a heart. This week the motion picture theater owners of New York are proving it once again by helping to raise money for the bombed church in Birmingham and to combat bombs and bigotry in general.

They will show a short film written by Dore Scharf, the famed motion picture producer, appealing for funds on behalf of America's Conscience Fund.
This is the funds co-chaired by Gov. Pat Brown of California and Charlie Taft of Cincinnati, which includes Harry Truman, Averell Harriman, and many other distinguished Americans, to try to repair the damage both to churches and people in Birmingham and to build better human relations.

The theater owners who have put their hearts ahead of their pocketbooks are: Harry Brandt of the Brandt Theaters, Max Cohen of the Cinema Circuit, Harry Mandel of RKO, Dr. John Phillips, executive director of the Metropolitan Motion Picture Association, and Laurence Tisch of Loew's.

Nixon Apologized To Mr. K

Note to JFK: In view of Richard Nixon's attack on you for selling wheat to Russia, you might check with the American embassy in Moscow regarding Nixon's apology to Khrushchev on a much more important matter.

When the then vice president arrived in Moscow on his goodwill trip in 1959, he apologized recently passed by Congress commemorating "Captive Nations Week" which demanded that the United States continue its efforts to win the release of the "captive nations," namely Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and etc.

Nixon told Khrushchev: "This was a foolish resolution."

"Do you mean to say that the members of Congress are fools?"
Khrushchev asked.

"This is just a private conversation," Nixon hastily countered.
At that time the release of the captive nations was the official policy of the United States, yet Nixon apologized for it. I think,
Mr. President, that you will find a complete record of this conversation in the files of the American embassy in Moscow.

Adenauer's Anger

Konrad Adenauer's angry blast at the United States for selling wheat to Russia sent Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman scouring through world trade statistics to see whether the old

German has been keeping his own counsel.

The figures show that West Germany, under Adenauer, sold a generous 603,900 tons of flour behind the Iron Curtain in 1961-62.

What's more, the Germans probably processed some of the flour from the same U. S. wheat that Adenauer doesn't want the United States to sell directly to Russia.

Freeman asked his experts to find out, if they could, whether West Germany has been transshipping U. S. wheat behind the Iron Curtain in the form of flour.

"In 1961-62," came back the confidential reply, "exports of flour from West Germany to the Soviet bloc increased sharply.
While we have no concrete evidence that this flour was milled from U. S. wheat, this is a possibility, since in that year West Germany imported substantial quantities of wheat from the United States."

It looks as if Adenauer is guilty of the old preachment: "Do as I say, not as I do."

The Communist Wheat Score

The Agriculture Department has made a quick calculation that not only Russia but other communist countries may buy as many as 6,950,000 tons of wheat from American farmers.

Based on preliminary soundings, the Agriculture Department has put Russia down for 4,000,000 tons, but Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and Poland have also said they would like to purchase U. S. grain.

The Agriculture Department has reason to believe that Bulgaria will buy 30,000 tons immediately, 150,000 eventually. Czechoslovakia is expected to pick up 200,000 tons now, possibly another 200,000 tons later. Hungary reportedly would like to buy 300,000 tons now, perhaps another 100,000 tons in the future.

The biggest Iron Curtain customer, next to Russia, is Poland, which wants immediate delivery of 1,500,000 tons but may boost the order to 2,000,000 tons.

This should relieve some of the pressure on America's bursting grain bins.

Note: Another Agriculture Department survey shows that Iron Curtain countries already have purchased between 9,110,000 and 9,360,000 tons of wheat from Australia, Canada, Denmark, France, Italy, Rumania, and West Germany. Of this, Red China got 1-500,000 tons. Unconfirmed reports have also been received of another 4,610,000 tons going behind the Iron Curtain.

Britain's New Theater

By John Crosby

LONDON

You beat your way across Wat-terloo Bridge, turn left on Stamford Street, then look sharp for Duchy Street, and you find yourself surrounded by warehouses, new housing developments, and skylarking children.

"Looking for the National Theater, sir?" said one of the sky-larking children and led me by the hand to a group of low sheds left over from the last war. Down a low wooden corridor, which looked terribly temporary and will probably still be there for the next war, I found Kenneth Tynan, the literary manager, as they call him, in a microscopic office embedded in manuscripts.

"It's not Lincoln Center, is it?"
I said.

Britain's new National Theater which has been in the discussion stage for 115 years (the British don't like to rush into things) makes its bow a week from Tuesday (Oct. 22) with Peter O'Toole in "Hamlet." Already the run on the box office is preposterous. I asked a harassed lady press agent for a ticket to "Hamlet."
"We have some for the press on Nov. 11, I think," she said. "Will that be all right?"

"If I get scooped by Fortune magazine, it'll look bad," I told her.

Another girl piped up: "Uncle Vanya" is sold out for the season already. Nothing for the press.
Or anybody." It's a big hit, the National Theater. And it hasn't opened.

The difference between ourselves and the British in an affair like this is profound. When we undertake culture, we first hire a fund-raiser. Then an architect.
Then a builder. Then we throw up a couple of hundred million dollars worth of architecture, which is roundly condemned by press, pulpit, taxpayers, and small boys.
Only then does someone worry about what to put inside all that architecture. It's always Leonard Bernstein, because what else is there? Then everyone complains about the acoustics.

Here they start with Sir Laurence Olivier, who is directing "Hamlet," and work outward from there. For a theater, it's the Old Vic, which is old and already there. For offices, all these old sheds. But what a cast—Rosemary Harris as Ophelia, Diana Wynyard as the Queen, Michael Redgrave as Claudius. Later Olivier will play in "Uncle Van-ya," which got notices that verged on hysteria at Chichester this summer, Joan Plowright in "St.
Joan," Michael Redgrave in "The Master Builder." Pretty good authors, too — Shakespeare, Shaw, Chekhov, Ibsen.

But with a sprinkling of younger people among both writers and players. The veteran Olivier will be cast with young Maggie Smith in "The Recruiting Officer," a Restoration comedy by George Farquhar. Among the living authors there'll be "Play" (that's its name) by Samuel Beckett and "Andorra" by Max Frisch, which was a big flop on Broadway but is very successful in Europe.

The policy towards films will be novel and intelligent. "Harold Pinter's first play was a failure," Tynan pointed out, "but now the word of mouth has gone around and everyone would like to see it.
But you can't see it. It's not on."
The National Theater, he said, will present new plays specially commissioned by the National Theater. If they fail, they'll be withdrawn for six months; then tried again, when presumably the audience might be ready for them.

In this epoch when the avant garde is so fearfully avant as to be barely on the horizon, this is a splendid idea. "How many people would go see Lee Cobb in "Death of a Salesman" if they could," Tynan pointed out.

"We've got the actors and we've got the playwrights, but competition from television and the films is very strong," he said.
"We can't hang on to someone like O'Toole past one production.
The box office for the first eight weeks has been stamped, and we won't book longer than eight weeks."

But while the new National Theater is getting a lot of advance box office, it's getting a lot of advance brickbats, too. The younger critics are muttering that the National Theater with its Shakespeare, Shaw, Ibsen routine is just the "old rubbish like before" and why do it over again, especially with public money?

These complaints will disappear if the boys come up with a few more resounding smashes, like "Uncle Vanya," or new actors, which they promise to do.

I think this is the way to go about it. Get the plays and the players first. Worry about the buildings later.

Texas Voted Number One In Completely Jumbled UPI Grid Ratings

Oklahoma Falls To Fifth Spot; Badgers Second

Navy, Penn State Out Of Top Ten After First Losses

UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Texas' Longhorns bulldozed their way in to first place and upset completely jumbled major college football's top 10 in the weekly ratings of the United Press International board of coaches Monday.

Not a single member of the top 10 remained in the same position as last week and only three of the elite emerged with unbeaten-untied records.

Wisconsin jumped to second place from fifth, idle Pittsburgh moved up a notch to third. Ohio State skipped three places to fourth despite a tie and Oklahoma, No. 1 last week before its 28-7 licking by the Longhorns, fell to fifth.

Gets Three Spots

Three Southeastern Conference teams, Georgia Tech, Mississippi and Alabama in order filled the sixth through eighth spots.

Illinois, a newcomer to the list along with Ole Miss, tied Alabama for the eighth position and Northwestern ranked 10th. The Wildcats and Georgia Tech returned to the ranking 10 after a week's absence.

Defending champion and twice-beaten Southern California, ninth last week, dropped completely out of the first 20 after its loss to Notre Dame.

Texas drew 30 first-place votes and Wisconsin picked up the other five from the 35-man board of coaches. The Longhorns piled up the biggest point total of the season in the ratings 344 out of a possible maximum of 350. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first to 10th places.

Navy, State Drop

Navy and Penn State, upset victims last Saturday, fell from sixth and eighth to 11th and 12th respectively. Duke, 13th, along with 18th-ranked Missouri, were the only teams to maintain their ratings from last week. Louisiana State finished 14th, Oregon, 15th and Auburn 16th.

The Air Force ranked 17th and Notre Dame and Syracuse tied for 19th to complete the top 20 teams.

Georgia Tech hosts Auburn and Penn State visits Syracuse in the only meetings between top 20 powers. Ohio State has one of the roughest assignments for top 10 teams this weekend, facing Southern California in Los Angeles.

PHENOMENAL RECORD

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (UPI)—Doyt Perry, head football coach at Bowling Green, has compiled a phenomenal record of 60 wins, seven losses, and five ties for a .868 winning percentage since returning to his alma mater nine years ago.

Cubs' Ellsworth Top Comeback Player In NL

Simmons Second In AP Balloting

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Ellsworth of the Chicago Cubs, a 20-game loser in 1962 and a 22-game winner the past season, was named the National League's comeback player-of-the-year Monday in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 6-foot-4 southpaw collected 24 votes in the balloting by 68 baseball writers. Curt Simmons of St. Louis, another lefty pitcher, was second with 11 votes followed by Dick Groat of the Cards' shortstop, 10 and Ron Santo, Chicago Cubs' third baseman, 9.

Ellsworth had a 9-20 record with an earned run average of 5.08 in 1962. Last season, he put together a 22-10 mark and a sparkling 2.10 ERA. Seven of his losses were in low-run games. He lost 1-0 and 3-0 twice each, also 2-1, 3-2 and 3-1.

Ellsworth pitched 19 complete games, including four shutouts, in 37 starts and walked 75 while striking out 185 in 290 2-3 innings.

Simmons won 15 games and lost nine in 1963. He posted six shutouts, including consecutive white washings of the New York Mets, Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee Braves early in September. The veteran left-hander, a 17-game winner for the pennant-winning Philadelphia Phillies in 1950, was unconditionally released by the Phils in May, 1960, and signed by the Cards. His 1962 record was 10-10.

Groat, obtained from Pittsburgh last winter, hit .319 last season, 25 points higher than in 1962. He was the circuit's top batsman in 1960 with .325, fell to .275 in 1961 and moved up to .294 the following season.

Santo, a .227 hitter in '62, was among the most productive batters in '63 with a .297 average, 25 home runs and 99 runs batted in.

Others who received consideration were Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers, six votes; Joe Nuxhall, Cincinnati, and Wes Covington, Philadelphia, two each, and Warren Spahn, Milwaukee, Harvey Kuenn, San Francisco, Jim Maloney, Cincinnati, and Don Elston, Chicago, one each.

IN THE ERA prior to the formation of the National Football League in Canton, O., in 1920, the early pros were equipped with sturdy leather belts. A ball carrier would grab onto the belt of the quickest blocking lineman and follow him through opposing tacklers. The belt was also used to catapult a runner over a piled-up line.

Browns Sense New Attitude Under Collier

New Coach Shows More Compassion

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown said he felt sorry for Brown, his old Cleveland coach, and observed Monday that Blanton Collier, his new boss, has "a little more compassion for people."

The Cleveland fullback, who ripped the New York Giants to shreds Sunday in a 35-24 victory, spoke at a luncheon of the Quarterback Club.

"Everybody asks if we are trying to show up Paul Brown," said Jimmy. "That is ridiculous. We have no animosity at all for him. I sort of feel sorry for him. He is a proud man who was a great coach. With a couple of adjustments, he could have been top dog in Cleveland for years with a terrific team. Because he didn't make those adjustments, it is sort of a tragedy."

"We are looking forward, not back. We have a positive attitude. We wish Paul no bad luck at all. We hope he goes on and gets a team. We're not trying to prove anything about Paul except that we can play football."

Jimmy said Collier was responsible for the club's new attitude. "This is the first time we ever came to New York without worrying about internal problems (he didn't elaborate). When we got off to a bad start nobody dropped his head. They all stayed in there."

"Our new offense isn't so new. We do have option blocking. I will do a lot of running, not just guard to guard. I might go anywhere."

"Under Paul it was, 'Do your job and don't worry so much about the others'. That was great as long as our personnel was great, but not so good when the league balanced off. We needed spirit and a different attitude. We have it now."

"Blanton worked for Paul. He still retains a lot of Paul's ideas. The players didn't want to see radical changes. They wanted to maintain all the good and add a few more. It is the little things that make the difference. Paul was a real fine coach. Blanton had a little more compassion for people."

Sugar Ray Robinson Wins Paris Fight

PARIS (UPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson, former welterweight and middleweight champion, bounced back from a June defeat Monday night and outpointed Armand Vanucci of Corsica at the Palais Des Sports.

Sugar Ray of New York, 43 or 44 years old, entered Monday night 10-rounder for his first fight since June 24, when he suffered such a battering from Joey Giardello at Philadelphia that he considered retirement.

Monday night Robinson weighed 159½ pounds against the wild-swinging Vanucci's 159½.

Don Heffner Joins Mets Coaching Staff

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don Heffner, veteran major league infielder and manager of the San Diego Padres the last two seasons, Monday was named to the coaching staff of the New York Mets.

Heffner will join Mel Harder and Wes Westrum, selected as Mets' coaches last week.

Mets' Manager Casey Stengel thus will be operating with an entirely new coaching staff for the '64 season. Of his '63 staff, Cookie Lavagetto resigned to become a coach with the San Francisco Giants, Ernie White was named pitching coach for the Mets' minor leaguers, and Solly Hemus was released.

Jack Fisher Says Pitching Regularly For Mets Will Solve Weight Problem

Didn't Pitch Enough For Giants; Wants To Hurl Every 4th Day

By PHILLIP CORWIN

United Press International
BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — A spot in the starting rotation can do wonders for the figure according to Jack Fisher, one of the two draft selections last week by the New York Mets.

Fisher is a 24-year-old right-hander who compiled a disappointing 6-10 record with the San Francisco Giants this past season. It seems that Fisher's employers throughout his major league career have frequently found fault with his excess poundage and have recommended a reduction.

Fisher, who carries a playing weight of 210 pounds on a 6-2 frame but adds another 15 during the off-season, feels the only solution is to pitch regularly.

"If I get into regular rotation next season, I'll stay between 208 and 212 pounds," he said. "Nobody says anything about my weight when I win, but as soon as I lose they say I should take off a few pounds."

Didn't Pitch Enough
"The main trouble last year," Fisher continued, "was that I just didn't pitch enough. I'd much rather be a starter than a reliever. Some guys thrive on work and some guys like a lot of rest. I want to pitch every fourth day."

The newest Met has a basic repertoire of four pitches—fast ball, slider, change-up, and curve—but he doesn't rely on any one pitch in particular.

"I'll just go on the pitch I think I'm throwing best that day," Fisher says. "It varies from day to day."

Fisher wound up in San Francisco last year along with Billy Hoelt and Jim Coker in a trade that sent Stu Miller (who set an American League record with 71 appearances), John Orsino and Mike McCormick to the Baltimore Orioles. Critics have always felt that Fisher was potentially a better pitcher than his past performances indicated.

But just for the record, according to Fisher, the best way to lose weight, is to win (games, that is).

He's Raring To Go

After all, the devil makes work for idle appetites, and Jolly Jack Fisher wants to do more than sit around and eat while he's waiting to pitch. And Fisher is raring to go. "I'm looking forward to next year," he concluded. So are the Mets.

USAC Stock Race Circuit To Bar Compact Cars

DETROIT (UPI) —The United States Auto Club (USAC) announced Monday compact cars will not be allowed to race in its stock car circuit during the coming year.

USAC said its 1964 specifications would remain unchanged from 1963. The specs call for a minimum wheelbase of 116 inches and a maximum engine displacement of 428 cubic inches.

The action follows a recent move by rival National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR) circuit to lower the minimum wheelbase to 114 inches and top engine displacement to 396 cubic inches.

Henry Banks, USAC director of competition, said USAC was proud of the fact "our stock car racing circuit has been a major league in every respect. We intend keeping it that way. We are not going to intermingle the compact cars in race events with regulation size stock cars."

Panthers Top Lambert Poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—Unbeaten Pittsburgh moved ahead Monday in the competition for the Lambert trophy, emblematic of Eastern college football supremacy, in the wake of Navy's upset loss to Southern Methodist.

Pitt, with a 3-0 record, was idle last Saturday but received the unanimous first-place votes of the Lambert selection committee of sports writers, broadcasters and coaches.

Navy, which had been leading the poll for the first two weeks, dropped to second with 8.3 points in the voting against Pitt's perfect score of 10.0 Syracuse, which crushed UCLA 29-7 Friday and thus matched Navy's overall 3-1 record, moved up to third with 7.9 points.

Army, upset victor over Penn State, jumped from sixth place to fourth place with 7.1 points while Penn State dropped from third to fifth at 6.7.

Rounding out the top 10 in order were Boston College 4.1 points, Princeton 4.0 Dartmouth 3.7, Harvard 1.9, and Yale and Colgate tied for 10th at 0.4. Others receiving votes were Columbia and Massachusetts.

Bob Cousy Starts College Coaching Career At Boston

BOSTON (UPI)—Bob Cousy, former star of the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association (NBA), starts his college coaching career Tuesday.

Cousy, who played his own college ball at rival Holy Cross, picks up the coaching reins at Boston College where he will greet eight returning lettermen and 12 members of last year's freshman team.

"We'll be a running team because we don't have exceptional height and scoring punch up front," Cousy said.

"We'll try to play a ball-hawking defense so that we'll be able to win the games we should and also steal a few."

Oklahoma Falls To Fifth Spot; Badgers Second

UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Texas Longhorns bulled their way into first place and upsets completely jumbled major college football's top 10 in the weekly ratings of the United Press International board of coaches Monday.

Not a single member of the top 10 remained in the same position as last week and only three of the elite emerged with unbeaten-untied records.

Wisconsin jumped to second place from fifth, idle Pittsburgh moved up a notch to third, Ohio State skipped three places to fourth despite a tie and Oklahoma, No. 1 last week before its 28-7 licking by the Longhorns, fell to fifth.

Gets Three Spots

Three Southeastern Conference teams, Georgia Tech, Mississippi and Alabama in order filled the sixth through eighth spots.

Illinois, a newcomer to the list along with Ole Miss, tied Alabama for the eighth position and Northwestern ranked 10th. The Wildcats and Georgia Tech returned to the ranking 10 after a week's absence.

Defending champion and twice-beaten Southern California, ninth last week, dropped completely out of the first 20 after its loss to Notre Dame.

Texas drew 30 first-place votes and Wisconsin picked up the other five from the 35-man board of coaches. The Longhorns piled up the biggest point total of the season in the ratings 344 out of a possible maximum of 350. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first to 10th places.

Navy, State Drop

Navy and Penn State, upset victims last Saturday, fell from sixth and eighth to 11th and 12th respectively. Duke, 13th, along with 18th-ranked Missouri, were the only teams to maintain their ratings from last week. Louisiana State finished 14th, Oregon, 15th and Auburn 16th.

The Air Force ranked 17th and Notre Dame and Syracuse tied for 19th to complete the top 20 teams.

Georgia Tech hosts Auburn and Penn State visits Syracuse in the only meetings between top 20 powers. Ohio State has one of the roughest assignments for top 10 teams this weekend, facing Southern California in Los Angeles.

Cubs' Ellsworth Top Comeback Player In NL

Simmons Second In AP Balloting

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Ellsworth of the Chicago Cubs, a 20-game loser in 1962 and a 22-game winner the past season, was named the National League's comeback player of the year Monday in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 6-foot-4 southpaw collected 24 votes in the balloting by 68 baseball writers. Curt Simmons of St. Louis, another lefty pitcher, was second with 11 votes followed by Dick Groat, the Cards' shortstop, 10 and Ron Santo, Chicago Cubs' third baseman, 9.

Ellsworth had a 9-20 record with an earned run average of 5.08 in 1962. Last season, he put together a 22-10 mark and a sparkling 2.10 ERA. Seven of his losses were in low-run games. He lost 1-0 and 3-0 twice each, also 2-1, 3-2 and 3-1.

Ellsworth pitched 19 complete games, including four shutouts, in 37 starts and walked 75 while striking out 185 in 290 2-3 innings.

Simmons won 15 games and lost nine in 1963. He posted six shutouts, including consecutive whitewashings of the New York Mets, Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee Braves early in September. The veteran left-hander, a 17-game winner for the pennant-winning Philadelphia Phillies in 1950, was unconditionally released by the Phils in May, 1960, and signed by the Cards. His 1962 record was 10-10.

Groat, obtained from Pittsburgh last winter, hit .319 last season, 25 points higher than in 1962. He was the circuit's top batsman in 1960 with .325, fell to .275 in 1961 and moved up to .294 the following season.

Santo, a .227 hitter in '62, was among the most productive batters in '63 with a .297 average, 25 home runs and 99 runs batted in.

Others who received consideration were Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers, six votes; Joe Nuxhall, Cincinnati, and Wes Covington, Philadelphia, two each, and Warren Spahn, Milwaukee, Harvey Kuenn, San Francisco, Jim Maloney, Cincinnati, and Don Elston, Chicago, one each.

Fort Hill JVs Win Abbreviated Game From Bruce, 6-0

Fort Hill High School's junior varsity football team defeated Bruce High School's jayvees yesterday by the score of 6-0 in an abbreviated game at Fort Hill Stadium.

With only six minutes remaining in the final period, an official terminated the contest when he discovered that members of the Westernport team were playing without protective mouthpieces. A national federation ruling provides that each football player shall wear an intra-oral mouth and tooth protector and the official halted hostilities when Bruce players lacked the protective equipment.

Fort Hill scored its touchdown in the opening period on an eight-yard off tackle play by Joe McElfish.

Coach John Frank's Little Sentinels were driving for another score and had the ball on the Bruce nine when the official stopped play.

The victory was the fifth against a single loss for Fort Hill. Fort Hill's next engagement is with the Romney High Jayvees here Monday, October 21.

Score by periods:

Fort Hill 6 0 0 0—Bruce 0 0 0 0
Touchdown: Fort Hill—Joe McElfish (8 yard run).

Sugar Ray Robinson Wins Paris Fight

PARIS (UPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson, former welterweight and middleweight champion, bounced back from a June defeat Monday night and outpointed Armand Vanucci of Corsica at the Palais Des Sports.

Sugar Ray of New York, 43 or 44 years old, entered Monday night's 10-rounder for his first fight since June 24, when he suffered such a battering from Joey Giardello at Philadelphia that he considered retirement.

Monday night Robinson weighed 159½ pounds against the wild-swinging Vanucci's 159½.

Don Heffner Joins Mets Coaching Staff

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don Heffner, veteran major league infielder and manager of the San Diego Padres the last two seasons, Monday was named to the coaching staff of the New York Mets.

Heffner will join Mel Harder and Wes Westrum, selected as Mets' coaches last week.

Mets' Manager Casey Stengel thus will be operating with an entirely new coaching staff for the '64 season. Of his '63 staff, Cookie Lavagetto resigned to become a coach with the San Francisco Giants, Ernie White was named pitching coach for the Mets' minor leaguers, and Solly Hemus was released.

Browns Sense New Attitude Under Collier

New Coach Shows More Compassion

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown said he felt sorry for Brown, his old Cleveland coach, and observed Monday that Blanton Collier, his new boss, has "a little more compassion for people."

The Cleveland fullback, who ripped the New York Giants to shreds Sunday in a 35-24 victory, spoke at a luncheon of the Quarterback Club.

"Everybody asks if we are trying to show up Paul Brown," said Jimmy. "That is ridiculous. We have no animosity at all for him. I sort of feel sorry for him. He is a proud man who was a great coach. With a couple of adjustments, he could have been top dog in Cleveland for years with a terrific team. Because he didn't make those adjustments, it is sort of a tragedy."

"We are looking forward, not back. We have a positive attitude. We wish Paul no bad luck at all. We hope he goes on and gets a team. We're not trying to prove anything about Paul except that we can play football."

Jimmy said Collier was responsible for the club's new attitude.

"This is the first time we ever came to New York without worrying about internal problems (he didn't elaborate). When we got off to a bad start nobody dropped his head. They all stayed in there."

"Our new offense isn't so new. We do have option blocking. I will do a lot of running, not just guard to guard. I might go anywhere."

"Under Paul it was, 'Do your job and don't worry so much about the others'. That was great as long as our personnel was great, but not so good when the league balanced off. We needed spirit and a different attitude. We have it now."

"Blanton worked for Paul. He still retains a lot of Paul's ideas. The players didn't want to see radical changes. They wanted to maintain all the good and add a few more. It is the little things that make the difference. Paul was a real fine coach. Blanton is a real fine coach. Blanton had a little more compassion for people."

Jack Fisher Says Pitching Regularly For Mets Will Solve Weight Problem

Didn't Pitch Enough For Giants; Wants To Hurl Every 4th Day

By PHILIP CORWIN
United Press International
BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — A spot in the starting rotation can do wonders for the figure according to Jack Fisher, one of the two draft selections last week by the New York Mets.

Fisher is a 24-year-old right-hander who compiled a disappointing 6-10 record with the San Francisco Giants this past season. It seems that Fisher's employers throughout his major league career have frequently found fault with his excess weight and have recommended a reduction.

Fisher, who carries a playing weight of 210 pounds on a 6-2 frame but adds another 15 during the off-season, feels the only solution is to pitch regularly.

"If I get into regular rotation next season, I'll stay between 208 and 212 pounds," he said. "Nobody says anything about my weight when I win, but as soon as I lose they say I should take off a few pounds."

Didn't Pitch Enough
"The main trouble last year," Fisher continued, "was that I just didn't pitch enough. I'd much rather be a starter than a reliever. Some guys thrive on work and some guys like a lot of rest. I want to pitch every fourth day."

The newest Met has a basic repertoire of four pitches—fast ball, slider, change-up, and curve—but he doesn't rely on any one pitch in particular.

Fisher wound up in San Francisco last year along with Billy Hoelt and Jim Coker in a trade that sent Stu Miller (who set an American League record with 71 appearances), John Orsino and Mike McCormick to the Baltimore Orioles. Critics have always felt that Fisher was potentially a better pitcher than his past performances indicated.

But just for the record, according to Fisher, the best way to lose weight is to win (games, that is).

He's Raring To Go
After all, the devil makes work for idle appetites, and jolly Jack Fisher wants to eat more than sit around and eat while he's waiting to pitch. And Fisher is raring to go.

"I'm looking forward to next year," he concluded. So are the Mets.

Cousy, who played his own college ball at rival Holy Cross, picks up the coaching reins at Boston College where he will greet eight returning lettermen and 12 members of last year's freshman team.

"We'll be a running team because we don't have exceptional height and scoring punch up front," Cousy said.

"We'll try to play a ball-hawking defense so that we'll be able to win the games we should and also steal a few."

Army, upset victor over Penn State, jumped from sixth place to fourth place with 7.1 points while Penn State dropped from third to fifth at 6.7.

Rounding out the top 10 in order were Boston College 4.1 points, Princeton 4.0 Dartmouth 3.7, Harvard 1.9, and Yale and Colgate tied for 10th at 0.4. Others receiving votes were Columbia and Massachusetts.

Slayer Of Jockey's Father Given 1-5 Years In Prison

Mrs. Frances Brant Sentenced In Death Of Bill Hartack, Sr.

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Jefferson County Circuit Court Judge Gray Silver Monday sentenced Mrs. Frances Clara Brant, 47, Winchester, Va., to 1-to-5 years in prison in the fatal shooting of William Hartack Sr., 55, father of jockey Bill Hartack.

The elder Hartack was shot with a .22 caliber rifle at his farm home near here last June.

Silver rejected a defense motion for a suspended sentence, saying he could not consider it because a life had been taken.

The motion was made on the grounds that Mrs. Brant had been under a doctor's care for injuries suffered in an automobile wreck.

Mrs. Brant had entered a plea of innocent to a charge of voluntary manslaughter on which she had been indicted Sept. 17. However, the following day she changed her plea to guilty when the charge was reduced to involuntary manslaughter.

Hartack, a widower, had attempted to go for help after he was shot but wrecked his pickup truck in the lane leading to his house. Mrs. Brant also suffered a bullet wound in the arm in the altercation. The nature of their quarrel was not disclosed by investigators.

Misti Is Seventh Horse Entered In International Race

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Misti, the 5-year-old French handicapper, was added Monday to the field for the Washington D.C. International to be run at Laurel Race Course Nov. 11.

John D. Schapiro, Laurel president, announced owner Count Guillaume d'Ornano had agreed to give Misti another chance in the $150,000 turf race. In 1961 he ran fifth.

Since then the brown colt by Medium-Mist has won the 1962 Prix Ganay at Longchamp, won this year's Prix Henri Foy and ran second in England's Ascot Gold Cup.

Misti became the seventh horse announced for the International. Others are England's Espresso, France's Relko, Ireland's Christmas Island, Hungary's Imperial, and the United States' Kelso and Mongo.

Slayer Of Jockey's Father Given 1-5 Years In Prison

Mrs. Frances Brant Sentenced In Death Of Bill Hartack, Sr.

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Jefferson County Circuit Court Judge Gray Silver Monday sentenced Mrs. Frances Clara Brant, 47, Winchester, Va., to 1-to-5 years in prison in the fatal shooting of William Hartack Sr., 55, father of jockey Bill Hartack.

The elder Hartack was shot with a .22 caliber rifle at his farm home near here last June.

Silver rejected a defense motion for a suspended sentence, saying he could not consider it because a life had been taken.

The motion was made on the grounds that Mrs. Brant had been under a doctor's care for injuries suffered in an automobile wreck.

Mrs. Brant had entered a plea of innocent to a charge of voluntary manslaughter on which she had been indicted Sept. 17. However, the following day she changed her plea to guilty when the charge was reduced to involuntary manslaughter.

Hartack, a widower, had attempted to go for help after he was shot but wrecked his pickup truck in the lane leading to his house. Mrs. Brant also suffered a bullet wound in the arm in the altercation. The nature of their quarrel was not disclosed by investigators.

Loch Lynn Cops Town & Country Playoff Crown

Jim Taylor of Mt. Storm and Bucky Bolyard of Loch Lynn hit home runs.

Mt. Storm won the first two games of the final playoffs, 4-3 and 11-0 and Loch Lynn squared the series at two-all by winning the third and fourth contests, 7-6 and 2-0.

Score:
Loch Lynn 003 000 2-5 11

In Memoriam
In memory of our dear beloved husband and son, William L. Moss, who passed away three years ago today, October 15, 1960.
God took him home, it was his will
But in our hearts we love him still His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.

In Memoriam
In memory of our dear beloved husband and son, William L. Moss, who passed away three years ago today, October 15, 1960.
God took him home, it was his will but in our hearts we love him still. His memory is as dear today as when we first met him. As in the hour he passed away we often sit and think of him when we are all alone.
For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own.
Sincerely,
Parents, Brother & Sisters

Attorney Named To Represent Flintstone Girl

Escapee's Girl Friend Faces Five Charges

Delores Jean Barkin, 21-year-old Flintstone girl, yesterday appeared before Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court and he appointed Attorney Noel Spier Cook to represent her on four charges of burglary and one of malicious destruction of property.

Miss Barkin was described as the "girl friend" of James R. Walter, 24-year-old Flintstone man, who escaped from the County Jail on September 25 while awaiting grand jury action on charges against him. She told Judge Harris that she had no funds to employ an attorney for her defense and asked him to appoint one to represent her. Walter has not been recaptured.

Nine-Day Period
All of the charges against the Flintstone girl allegedly occurred within a nine-day period between July 19 and July 28. Two of the indictments charge that she broke into the Flintstone School. She is accused of breaking into the school on July 19 when cash, radio, a tape recorder and tools valued at a total of $518 were taken. She is accused of breaking into the school again on July 25 when a $100 violin, a stapler and marker were stolen.

Miss Barkin also is accused of breaking into the Western Maryland Lumber Company July 27 from which a check protector and cash, total value of $120.19, were taken and the Hiser Supply Company July 28 from which $4 was taken from a soft drink machine and $5 in stamps. The fifth charge accuses her of willful and malicious destruction of personal property belonging to Hiser Supply Company on July 28.

No plea was taken from the girl, who is scheduled for trial Wednesday, October 23.

Criminal trials are scheduled to start next Monday and are docketed through Thursday, October 24. State's Attorney James S. Getty and his deputy, Donald W. Mason, are docketing other criminal appeals for Friday, October 25, and Monday, October 28, but that schedule is not complete.

Three defendants are docketed for trial Monday. They include Raymond L. Hall, indicted on eight charges of false pretense; Aden Ambrose Abe, charged with burglary; and Robert J. Shippe, accused of statutory rape.

Four Face Trial
Docketed for Tuesday, October 22, are charges against four other persons. Three of them, Joseph Schultz, Thomas Wyborski and Robert Portmess, are accused of breaking into the Cresaptown Junior High School from which property worth $647 was taken. James E. Kline is docketed for trial the same day on four criminal appeals charging indecent exposure.

Three other defendants are scheduled for trial October 23 the same day Miss Barkin is to appear in court again. Norman H. White faces four charges of forgery. Two criminal appeals also are docketed that day. They involve Thomas Frankenberg and Elmer L. Furlow Jr., both accused of violating health laws.

Some 14 defendants are docketed for trial on Thursday, October 24. Three charges of violation of liquor laws are scheduled that day. Defendants in these cases are Henry Hart Post VFW, Jenkins Tavern and Potomac Liquors.

Ten assault charges also are docketed for trial October 24. Two of them involve James House, Harry Stewart is charged with both assault and disturbance of peace. Others charged with assault are Arthur Harris, Gene Krampf, Donald Crites, Robert Wright, Robert Crites, Bernard A. Harris and Ernest Crites.

Others scheduled for trial October 24 are George Whetstone, charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants, and Theodore Nines, accused of non-support.

Lower Court Decisions Are Affirmed

Lower court decisions were affirmed yesterday in a number of civil appeals heard in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Two cross-claims were consolidated for trial yesterday afternoon and Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey decided the cases by affirming the decisions of former Trial Magistrate Paul W. Barnett. Harry Alvin Mallow, RD 1, Valley Road, had been awarded $108.91 in a suit against Robert George Saveleski and John Martin Saveleski, his father, 431 Cumberland Street. In the cross-suit which John M. Saveleski, had brought as owner of the car operated by his son, former Magistrate Barnett had found for the defendant, Mallow.

At stake in these cross-claims was a collision which occurred near the intersection of Cumberland and Schley streets on October 8, 1962. Judge Cobey ruled that young Saveleski, who had pulled his father's automobile from the southerly curb of Cumberland Street while headed west on that street, was guilty of negligence. Mallow was driving his truck east on Cumberland Street, had swung to the left at Allegany Street to avoid a car protruding into Cumberland Street but was back in his own lane at the time he struck the stopped Saveleski car, according to testimony.

Mallow was represented by Hugh A. McMullen and James Alfred Avirett. The Saveleskis were represented by Attorneys Ronald Brubaker and Gorman E. Getty.

Also affirmed yesterday by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris and Judge Cobey was a $284.25 judgment in favor of Sunset Memorial Park Inc., RD 3, Bedford Road, in a case against Robert E. Shelley and Eleanor M. Shelley, 430 Grand Avenue. Louis A. Fatkin was attorney for Sunset and Jack I. Mullen represented the Shelleys.

The lower court judgment also was affirmed in another case in which Sunset Memorial Park Inc. previously had been awarded $327.75 in a dispute with Sylvester F. Walker and Virginia D. Walker. (Continued on Page 8)

Site Is Picked For Branch Of University

Baltimore Co. Tract Approved

BALTIMORE (AP) — Brushing aside suggestions for more study, University of Maryland officials selected a 425-acre tract near here Monday for a Baltimore County branch of the university.

"The time has come to act," said the university's board of regents in a statement announcing plans to build the branch adjacent to the Baltimore Beltway at Exit 12.

The land, 26 miles from the College Park main campus and 5 miles from its Baltimore campus for professional schools, is owned by the state and is now assigned to Spring Grove State Hospital. The hospital buildings are a mile northwest of the proposed school site.

Unanimous board approval of the site came at a special meeting to hear recommendations of its committee on expansion, headed by Edward F. Holter and Richard W. Case.

Some state lawmakers and educators had urged deferment of any site selection until the question could be studied by the newly formed state Advisory Council for Higher Education.

The expansion committee, however, declared last month that this proposal had been rejected by the 1963 Legislature, which authorized new branches in Baltimore County, Western Maryland and on the Eastern Shore.

Committee members hope the Baltimore County branch, conceived as a commuting center for 500 to 600 Baltimore area students taking a full range of undergraduate subjects, will be ready by September, 1966.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, said the proposed Baltimore County site, subject to approval by the Maryland Board of Public Works, is suitable for later expansion of the branch.

In recommending prompt approval by the board of regents, the expansion committee said site was among 34 considered and 19 inspected.

"The committee calls the attention of the board of regents to a recent summary," said the expansion committee, "which shows that various aspects of establishing a campus of the University of Maryland to serve the Baltimore Metropolitan area have been the subject of discussion by the board and the cognizant committees of the board over a period of 12 years and that this matter has been discussed at some 52 meetings of the board during that period."

Supporting the call for action now, Elkins said student enrollment at College Park ballooned by 2,300 this fall instead of an expected increase of 1,300 students.

Charles P. McCormick, chairman of the regents board, agreed.

"We must get on with it now," he said.

Judge Denies Habeas Corpus Writ To Man

Baltimore County Prisoner Involved

A Baltimore County prisoner in the Maryland Penitentiary whose only apparent connection with this area is that his name is Harry L. Cumberland yesterday was denied a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in a five-page opinion filed in Allegany County Circuit Court by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Cumberland pleaded guilty to burglary in Baltimore County Circuit Court January 16, 1959, and subsequently was sentenced to the Maryland Penitentiary for an indeterminate time not to exceed 10 years.

Judge Harris cites the record of Cumberland's appearances in court since that time.

Files Petition

On December 3, 1959, he filed a petition for relief under the Uniform Post Conviction Procedure Act on the ground his commitment did not designate his sentence as indeterminate. At his hearing on this petition April 25, 1960, Judge John E. Raine Jr. determined that Cumberland's sentence was illegal because the State Constitution does not provide for indeterminate sentences in criminal cases where confinement is in the Maryland Penitentiary. Judge Raine then corrected the sentence by re-sentencing Cumberland to nine years in the penitentiary.

Thereafter, a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed in Montgomery County Circuit Court and it was denied. On August 8, 1960, a second petition under the Post Conviction Procedure Act was filed. This argued that Judge Raine's sentence was illegal. Judge John Grason Turnbull on January 20, 1961, denied this petition on the ground that the applicant already had one post conviction hearing and one habeas corpus hearing.

In his latest application, to Judge Harris, Cumberland recites that he has received an illegal sentence. "Obviously, this is a moot question as the illegal sentence has already been corrected," Judge Harris writes.

Not Represented

Cumberland also contends that he was not represented by counsel at his first hearing on January 16, 1959.

Judge Harris notes under a former doctrine it was not constitutionally necessary that counsel for indigent defendants be appointed in all state prosecutions. This doctrine has been effectively overruled by a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision in Gideon v. Wainwright. In this case, which was decided after the original trial of the petitioner, the Supreme Court held that an indigent defendant is entitled to counsel in non-capital cases.

The question that has caused much confusion in the courts is whether this doctrine is to be applied retroactively.

Judge Harris concludes that it does not have to be decided whether the Gideon Doctrine is to be applied retroactively because the petitioner waived the appointment of counsel. Even if he did not, the question is now moot because Judge Raine struck out the original sentence, appointed counsel for him and sentenced him again after the appointment of counsel. He adds that he does believe that the Gideon Doctrine should be retroactive.

Although he lost his case, Cumberland got one commendation from Judge Harris.

"The petitioner states that he prepared his application for a writ of habeas corpus in proper person," Judge Harris writes. "He recites many legal authorities and actually the skillful manner in which this paper is prepared would do credit to most lawyers."

Attorney Named To Represent Flintstone Girl

Escapee's Girl Friend Faces Five Charges

Delores Jean Barkin, 21-year-old Flintstone girl, yesterday appeared before Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court and he appointed Attorney Noel Speir Cook to represent her on four charges of burglary and one of malicious destruction of property.

Miss Barkin was described as the "girl friend" of James R. Walter, 24-year-old Flintstone man, who escaped from the County Jail on September 25 while awaiting grand jury action on charges against him. She told Judge Harris that she had no funds to employ an attorney for her defense and asked him to appoint one to represent her. Walter has not been recaptured.

Five-Day Period

All of the charges against the Flintstone girl allegedly occurred within a nine-day period between July 19 and July 28. Two of the indictments charge that she broke into the Flintstone School. She is accused of breaking into the school on July 19 when cash, radio, a tape recorder and tools valued at a total of $518 were taken. She is accused of breaking into the school again on July 25 when a $100 violin, a stapler and marker were stolen.

Miss Barkin also is accused of breaking into the Western Maryland Lumber Company July 27 from which a check protector and cash, total value of $120.19, were taken and the Hiser Supply Company July 28 from which $4 was taken from a soft drink machine and $5 in stamps. The fifth charge accuses her of willful and malicious destruction of personal property belonging to Hiser Supply Company on July 28.

No plea was taken from the girl, who is scheduled for trial Wednesday, October 23.

Criminal trials are scheduled to start next Monday and are docketed through Thursday, October 24. State's Attorney James S. Getty and his deputy, Donald W. Mason, are docketing other criminal appeals for Friday, October 25, and Monday, October 28, but that schedule is not complete.

Three defendants are docketed for trial Monday. They include Raymond L. Hall, indicted on eight charges of false pretense; Aden Ambrose Abe, charged with burglary; and Robert J. Shippe, accused of statutory rape.

Four Face Trial

Docketed for Tuesday, October 22, are charges against four other persons. Three of them, Joseph Schultz, Thomas Wyborski and Robert Portmess, are accused of breaking into the Cresaptown Junior High School from which property worth $647 was taken. James E. Kline is docketed for trial the same day on four criminal appeals charging indecent exposure.

Three other defendants are scheduled for trial October 23, the same day Miss Barkin is to appear in court again. Norman H. White faces four charges of forgery. Two criminal appeals also are docketed that day. They involve Thomas Frankenberry and Elmer L. Furlow Jr., both accused of violating health laws.

Some 14 defendants are docketed for trial on Thursday, October 24. Three charges of violation of liquor laws are scheduled that day. Defendants in these cases are Henry Hart Post VFW, Jenkins' Tavern and Potomac Liquors.

Ten assault charges also are docketed for trial October 24. Two of them involve James House. Harry Stewart is charged with both assault and disturbance of peace. Others charged with assault are: Arthur Harris, Gene Krampf, Donald Crites, Robert Wright, Robert Crites, Bernard A. Harris and Ernest Crites.

Others scheduled for trial October 24 are George Whetstone, charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants, and Theodore Nines, accused of non-support.

Site Is Picked For Branch Of University

Baltimore Co. Tract Approved

BALTIMORE (AP) — Brushing aside suggestions for more study, University of Maryland officials selected a 425-acre tract near here Monday for a Baltimore County branch of the university.

"The time has come to act," said the university's board of regents in a statement announcing plans to build the branch adjacent to the Baltimore Beltway at Exit 12.

The land, 26 miles from the College Park main campus and 5 miles from its Baltimore campus for professional schools, is owned by the state and is now assigned to Spring Grove State Hospital. The hospital buildings are a mile northwest of the proposed school site.

Unanimous board approval of the site came at a special meeting to hear recommendations of its committee on expansion, headed by Edward F. Holter and Richard W. Case.

Committee members hope the Baltimore County branch, conceived as a commuting center for 500 to 600 Baltimore area students taking a full range of undergraduate subjects, will be ready by September, 1966.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, said the proposed Baltimore County site, subject to approval by the Maryland Board of Public Works, is suitable for later expansion of the branch.

In recommending prompt approval by the board of regents, the expansion committee said site was among 34 considered and 19 inspected.

"The committee calls the attention of the board of regents to a recent summary," said the expansion committee, "which shows that various aspects of establishing a campus of the University of Maryland to serve the Baltimore Metropolitan area have been the subject of discussion by the board and the cognizant committees of the board over a period of 12 years and that this matter has been discussed at some 52 meetings of the board during that period."

Supporting the call for action now, Elkins said student enrollment at College Park ballooned by 2,300 this fall instead of an expected increase of 1,300 students.

Charles P. McCormick, chairman of the regents board, agreed. "We must get on with it now," he said.

Baltimore County Prisoner Involved

A Baltimore County prisoner in the Maryland Penitentiary whose only apparent connection with this area is that his name is Harry L. Cumberland yesterday was denied a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in a five-page opinion filed in Allegany County Circuit Court by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Cumberland pleaded guilty to burglary in Baltimore County Circuit Court January 16, 1959, and subsequently was sentenced to the Maryland Penitentiary for an indeterminate time not to exceed 10 years.

Judge Harris cites the record of Cumberland's appearances in court since that time.

Files Petition

On December 3, 1959, he filed a petition for relief under the Uniform Post Conviction Procedure Act on the ground his commitment did not designate his sentence as indeterminate. At his hearing on this petition April 25, 1960, Judge John E. Raine Jr. determined that Cumberland's sentence was illegal because the State Constitution does not provide for indeterminate sentences in criminal cases where confinement is in the Maryland Penitentiary. Judge Raine then corrected the sentence by re-sentencing Cumberland to nine years in the penitentiary.

Thereafter, a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed in Montgomery County Circuit Court and it was denied. On August 8, 1960, a second petition under the Post Conviction Procedure Act was filed. This argued that Judge Raine's sentence was illegal. Judge John Grason Turnbull on January 20, 1961, denied this petition on the ground that the applicant already had one post conviction hearing and one habeas corpus hearing.

In his latest application, to Judge Harris, Cumberland recites that he has received an illegal sentence. "Obviously, this is a moot question as the illegal sentence has already been corrected," Judge Harris writes.

Not Represented

Cumberland also contends that he was not represented by counsel at his first hearing on January 16, 1959.

Judge Harris notes under a former doctrine it was not constitutionally necessary that counsel for indigent defendants be appointed in all state prosecutions. This doctrine has been effectively overruled by a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision in Gideon v. Wainwright. In this case, which was decided after the original trial of the petitioner, the Supreme Court held that an indigent defendant is entitled to counsel in non-capital cases.

The question that has caused much confusion in the courts is whether this doctrine is to be applied retroactively.

Judge Harris concludes that it does not have to be decided whether the Gideon Doctrine is to be applied retroactively because the petitioner waived the appointment of counsel. Even if he did not, the question is now moot because Judge Raine struck out the original sentence, appointed counsel for him and sentenced him again after the appointment of counsel. He adds that he does believe that the Gideon Doctrine should be retroactive.

"The petitioner states that he prepared his application for a writ of habeas corpus in proper person," Judge Harris writes. "He recites many legal authorities and actually the skillful manner in which this paper is prepared would do credit to most lawyers."

Blooming Laurel May Be Sign Of Rough Fall

The mountain laurel is blooming again at Stony River, site of the huge power station being built in Grant County, W. Va., by the Virginia Electric and Power Company.

The news was received yesterday by F. Patrick Allender, business agent for Carpenters Local 1024.

He said he was told that old-timers say that when that happens it means a rough winter ahead.

The word is not in yet from Charles F. Heller, well known local weather forecaster.

Mr. Heller said recently that he has been looking for some caterpillars but has seen none during his daily walks here.

But he said he has been told that on the outskirts of the city, quite a few caterpillars have been seen and that they are black at either end and yellow in the center.

That would indicate, he said, that the area will have a rough fall, a moderate winter and a cold spring.

Mr. Heller, a former city commissioner and retired maintenance superintendent at the Cumberland Municipal Airport, is the author of the famous Salt-Onion Manac method of forecasting the coming year's rainfall.
